Operations On President Successful

No Malignancy, Doctors Disclose

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson underwent double surgery today, a growth removed from his throat was pronounced "clear-cut" free of cancer, and within half an hour after the operation he was writing questions for his doctors on the back of medical forms.

Even as surgeons turned to the repair of a rupture in the existing surgical scar on the President's side, experts were in a room adjacent to the Bethesda Naval Hospital operating theater, examining the polyp clipped from the edge of his right vocal cord.

Their verdict: It was not malignant.

Dr. James C. Cain, long a personal physician to Johnson, said it was "clear-cut" benign.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson was in the operating room about 53 minutes, from about 6:27 a.m. until 7:20.

Moyers said it took Dr. Wilbur J. Gould 17 minutes to remove the polyp, using forceps inserted through Johnson's mouth.

That phase of the operation took 19 minutes.

Moyers said preparatory work and other routine tasks accounted for the remainder of the time in the operating room.

Moyers said Johnson would be drinking liquids later today, and would be able to use his voice when essential. But he said the doctors want voice usage — which Gould blamed for the polyp in the first place—held to a minimum.

And the doctors have told Johnson he can make no formal speeches for four to five weeks. During those weeks, Moyers said, the President will be experiencing discomfort from the swelling in his throat.

For a period of some 90 minutes, Johnson was under the influence of the general anesthetic. During those minutes, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was standing by at his apartment in southwest Washington, ready to act if emergency arose.

"No such action was necessary," said Moyers, who telephoned Humphrey with word that the operation was over and was successful.

Moyers said the polyp in the President's throat was larger than the doctors had expected. He said they estimated it at 4 by 5 millimeters — a millimeter is .04 of an inch — whereas in advance of the operation the doctors had estimated only 3 millimeters.

Moyers said the doctors told him the polyp was located on the edge of the right vocal chord and had "dropped lower than the doctors had seen prior to the operation."

Moyers added that what the doctors called a "frozen section" of the polyp tissue was done immediately after the removal of the growth. This was for microscopic examination of the tissue to determine whether it showed any signs of malignancy.

In a "frozen section," the tissue is first frozen by chemical or other means and a very thin slice of it placed on a glass slide for examination under a powerful microscope to determine whether there are any cancerous cells in the tissue.

Moyers said the examination showed that the tissue examined was "benign". He added that in the words of Dr. James Cain of the Mayo Clinic, one of the President's team of surgeons, it was "clear-cut benign."

Moyers added that a further examination of polyp tissue, employing another process in which the tissue is "fixed" in certain test materials, will be carried out.

But he added that doctors are confident from the original examination that the polyp removed is benign.

He said that the pathologists who had performed the examination of the tissue — conducted in a room close by the operating room — were Dr. Lou Wolner of the Mayo Clinic and Dr. James Hume of Bethesda.

The latter doctor is one of the pathologists who participated in the post-mortem examination of President John F. Kennedy.

As regards how the hernia was repaired, Moyers said Dr. George Hollenbeck, chief surgeon in this part of the operation, had said the defect in the abdominal muscle wall and overlying tissues was about a half inch in diameter.

It was through this break in the muscle wall and overlying tissue that a part of the President's viscera—possibly a small section of the colon — protruded and formed a golf ball-sized hump on the President's abdomen.

Moyers said Hollenbeck told him the "defect was closed with stitches that pulled the edges of the muscle and its sheath together."

In response to a question as to whether the doctors had instructed Johnson to perform any exercises during or after his hospitalization to strengthen his repaired muscular wall and minimize the possibilities of recurrence of the hernia, Moyers said the doctors reported the President had not been given any instructions "at this time."

Moyers said that during the operation the President's heart had been monitored with an electrocardiography machine — presumably because of his history of a major heart attack in 1955.

As to what anesthetic was used, Moyers said a general anesthesia system was used — that is, substances designed to put the patient "asleep."

Moyers said Johnson was given a much lesser amount of anesthetics than he was given for his gall bladder and kidney stone operation more than a year ago — an operation that took 2 hours and 15 minutes.

He said the lesser amount of anesthetics given this time ap-

Battles Flare Anew In Viet Ground War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Ground fighting flared anew on widely separated fronts today as American infantrymen battled the Viet Cong in Communist War Zone C near the Cambodian border and U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops were locked in heavy fighting with Hanoi regulars near the buffer zone between the two Viet Nams.

U.S. planes, backing up the Americans in both areas, rained blows at the enemy. One Marine helicopter was shot down but there were no casualties. It was the 224th helicopter reported lost in South Viet Nam in the war.

As the Marines fought the North Vietnamese soldiers about 10 miles south of the demilitarized zone, giant B52 bombers struck in embattled Tay Ninh Province 60 miles northwest of Saigon for the seventh straight day, following up 104 strikes on Viet Cong positions by smaller tactical bombers.

The B52 raid at mid-day came about the same time a battalion of 600 to 700 men of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division made contact with a Viet Cong force of unknown size. The outcome of the clash was not yet reported by U.S. headquarters.

To the north, two companies of Marines and two companies of South Vietnamese troops were reported in hard combat with what was believed to be a reinforced company of Hanoi regulars. It was the first heavy contact reported in the area since late September.

The Marines reported killing 14 North Vietnamese and a Marine spokesman said the fighting was continuing tonight.

Both U.S. and South Vietnamese casualties were reported light.

Elsewhere, ground action was slack. Bad weather over North Viet Nam once again cut heavily into U.S. air strikes.

The U.S. Navy disclosed that it had sunk or damaged 299 Communist cargo barges off the coast of North Viet Nam in the first 20 days of a new campaign — called Traffic Cop — to choke off seaborne infiltration into South Viet Nam.

Adm. Roy L. Johnson, commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet, said Traffic Cop has had a "substantial effect" on the Communist supply line.

He reported U.S. destroyers sank 155 barges and damaged 144 more from Oct. 25 through Nov. 13. Previously, the Navy tried to cut the Communist sea supply line by intercepting traffic south of the 17th Parallel dividing North and South Viet Nam.

In other developments, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government announced a Cabinet reshuffle and U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge denied reports that he is quitting his post.

The Ky government said it would swear in four new Cabinet ministers Thursday to replace men who quit as a result of the dispute between northern and southern factions in the government. A few hours later a government spokesman said the swearing-in had been postponed until Friday but gave no reason for the delay.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Gemini 12's astronauts fly to Cape Kennedy today to begin a long series of discussions on their record-shattering space flight, a mission that opened the gate to the Apollo man-to-the-moon program.

Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. left the aircraft carrier Wasp by plane at 9 a.m. (EST) for a two-hour flight to this spaceport where they started the final Gemini journey last Friday.

The astronauts will remain at Cape Kennedy until Friday or Saturday, discussing their space flight in general terms. Then they will fly to the Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, Tex., for several days of detailed debriefings.

After that they'll hold a news conference in Houston.

Lovell, 38, and champion space-walker, Aldrin, 36, brought the Gemini program to a triumphant end Tuesday when their space chariot splashed into the Sargasso Sea area of the Atlantic Ocean, about 700 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy.

The landing was another example of the precision America has reached in its man-in-space programs. For the fourth straight time, a Gemini craft landed close enough to its recovery ship for the descent and splashdown to be relayed live by television to U.S. homes.

A helicopter put the spacemen on the deck of the aircraft carrier Wasp 30 minutes later and they strode jauntily across a red carpet, acknowledging the cheers of hundreds of sailors.

Stepping to a microphone, command pilot Lovell said: "We're both happy to end the Gemini program with a success. I hope we can continue to do as well in the space program."

Aldrin added: "We tried real hard to please everybody. I hope we've come half-way there."

Then they went below decks for extensive physical examinations, which they passed easily.

"They are in excellent condition and are in extremely good spirits," reported NASA physician Dr. Kenneth Beers. "There are no apparent problems."

Later, Aldrin said that walking in space was "a lot more than I expected it to be."

During the four-day flight he made three excursions outside Gemini 12 — a record 2-hour, 9-minute space walk and two space stands totaling 3 hours 27 minutes during which he thrust the upper part of his body through an open hatch to perform photographic and other experiments.

Planners Set Meeting For 1966 Reports

LISBON — Plans for a public meeting Nov. 29 at Lisbon to present a progress report on Columbiana County planning were approved during a meeting of the county's Regional Planning Commission Wednesday night at the Courthouse.

Tentative plans call for an 18-minute movie on the purpose of planning, along with reports from Horace McLean of Youngstown, consultant, and James Morrissey, county planning director, and Floyd Lower, president of the commission.

At last night's meeting, the commission gave tentative approval of proposed subdivision regulations prepared by a committee, headed by Richard Sanford, and referred them to the executive committee.

The revised regulations are to be presented to the county commissioners for adoption in January.

Plans were made for explaining the regulations at a meeting of realtors, bankers, developers and others Dec. 13 at Lisbon.

McLean reported on the development of a comprehensive plan for which he has a two-year contract, which started Oct. 1. He said he is currently working on completion of maps, land use studies and a transportation study, utilizing preparatory work done by committees of the commission.

A nominating committee was appointed by Lower. It consists of County Engineer John Ursu, Glenn Waight of East Liverpool and Ori Taylor of Lisbon.

County Files Action

Wellsville Named In Suit For $4,353 In Back Tax

The city of Wellsville is being sued by County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge for back taxes and penalties totaling $4,353.84, Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara informed Council at its meeting Tuesday night.

The sum represents taxes the city owes on the municipal sewage plant for the years 1959-65 inclusive. The site was not taken off the tax duplicate and reclassified as a non-profit, city-owned service, O'Hara said.

The legal document read to Council stated that if the money is not paid the county will take action to sell the plant in order to obtain the funds.

According to O'Hara, the slip-up came during the tenure of previous mayors and solicitors. He has taken steps in an attempt to block the action.

A motion of remission has been filed to have the county waive the taxes and penalties and declare the 16th St. and Riverside Ave. acreage exempt from regular taxation. The motions were filed in Auditor Kenneth Bell's office.

And the city will file for dismissal of the charges in a former legal answer to the suit.

THE FINANCE committee chairman, George Lawton, announced the Hilda Moore controversy has been settled.

He read a letter from Mayor William Daugherty stating Mrs. Moore has been paid $3,100 for the land her husband purchased from the city in 1956 and has been given an additional $25 for legal expenses. Daugherty's letter said a check of the county Courthouse at Lisbon revealed Mrs. Moore's deed never had been filed and also claimed the city had a release from the widow.

The report caused O'Hara to comment that he had not been contacted to assist in the negotiations despite the fact Council, at its last meeting, had moved that he handle the final arrangements. The solicitor said he was told no release had been procured from Mrs. Moore and indicated the city might yet be in jeopardy.

O'Hara commented that he rarely has been contacted by Daugherty on legal matters. The councilmen agreed, one declaring lots of things have been going on of a legal matter with the solicitor being bypassed."

Third Ward Councilman Nunzio Lombardozzi said the mayor should allow legal matters to be handled by those in that office while he tends to administrative details. "It seems the only time the solicitor gets to do anything is when it's too tough for them (the administration) to handle.

O'Hara requested the minutes show he was not kept informed of progress on the Moore incident.

Recount Set For Wilson In Hancock Vote

In a surprise move, the defeated Democratic candidate for Grant District Justice of the Peace, Julian C. Wilson, filed for a recount of ballots cast in the Nov. 8 general election in Hancock County.

The county commissioners, sitting as a board of canvassers, had completed official tabulation of the Clay and Grant District ballots, which showed Lloyd Nalley Jr. of Newell, Republicans, the victor by 395 votes (1,487-1,092).

Wilson, accompanied by his attorney, Leonard Tost of Weirton, appeared at the Courthouse in New Cumberland about 8:30 p.m. Tuesday and requested the recount. No reason was given.

The county clerk's office, which said the request, according to regulations, will be honored, said Wilson had posted the required bond and that the recount for the Grant District, involving Precincts 1 through 9, will begin Thursday afternoon at 1.

Nalley, commenting this morning on Wilson's action, said "I don't know what to think. If it had been close, say 30 or 50 votes, I could understand, but I won by over 300."

Dick Wright of Chester, longtime Hancock Democratic party leader, was appointed to the post in May 1965 during a special session of the Court of Commissioners to complete the term of Harry Lytton of Newell, who had died the previous week.

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet newspaper today said the Gemini 12 space flight repeated previous programs but conceded that many of the scientific experiments are of great interest for the further development of cosmonautics."

Trud, the Soviet labor paper, made the first comment here on Gemini 12. The Soviet press carried brief, factual stories while it was in flight.

Man Appeals Draft Case In Fight For Wife's Life

DETROIT (AP) — Tom Michaels has told his draft board he can't fight for his country because he's fighting for his wife's life.

The 22-year-old spray painter at a truck plant is appealing the decision of Selective Service Board 303 in suburban Warren that he is 1A—qualified to enter military service immediately.

Her kidney failed Sept. 9, five days after their first wedding anniversary.

To stay alive, doctors said, Mrs. Michaels must have her blood filtered twice a week on an artificial kidney machine.

Mrs. Michaels said her husband must work to pay for her hospital care.

The young couple hopes to avoid a hospital bill of $10,000 a year by buying a $6,200 artificial kidney. Michaels would be trained to operate the marchine. He already has made a $1,200 down payment.

"I can't operate the machine myself while I'm on it," Mrs. Michaels said. "I could pass out or something. It's just not safe."

She said Michaels is the only person in their families who could spend the 10 hours required to filter her blood through the artificial kidney.

The draft board revoked Michaels' student deferment after he dropped out of senior-year classes in electrical engineering at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

He was spending almost all his spare time at his wife's bedside for nine weeks at three hospitals. He also took three weeks off his $5,500-a-year job at the Dodge truck plant.

Dr. Elsie Eng, their family physician at Cleveland Clinic in Cleveland, Ohio, and their parish priest wrote to the draft board in October. They explained the seriousness of Mrs. Michaels' kidney failure and her need for the kidney device.

"The board said the letters weren't specific enough as to why he was needed at home," Mrs. Michaels said.

Last Monday, the doctors again wrote to Board 303.

Panel Given 3 Choices Of Verdicts

Sheppard Murder Case Now In Hands Of Jury

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Samuel H. Sheppard's second-degree murder case went to a jury of seven men and five women at 10:30 a.m. today, midway in the fourth week of his retrial.

Common Pleas Judge Francis J. Talty gave the panel a choice of three verdicts in its judgment of Sheppard in the July 4, 1954, bludgeon slaying of his first wife, Marilyn.

The choices were: guilty of second-degree murder, for which the sentence is life; first-degree manslaughter, carrying a sentence of one to 20 years; or acquittal.

The jury retired from a courtroom directly across the corridor from the scene of Sheppard's 1954 conviction for second-degree murder. He served nine years in prison before winning a new trial from the U.S. Supreme Court.

Sheppard, who testified at his first trial, failed to take the witness stand this time. Judge Talty warned the jurors that he had a constitutional right to remain silent and that they were not to "draw any inferences from failure to testify."

Prosecutor John T. Corrigan spent only 24 minutes on his closing argument. He told jurors he was confident they would: "Bring back a verdict consistent with the facts of this case. A verdict that would tell Sam Sheppard he can't hide from the truth and tell the other would-be Sam Sheppards they also can't hide from the truth."

F. Lee Bailey, Sheppard's chief counsel, concluded his 70-minute argument by asking the jury "to put together a picture of what happened. And you can quickly say this man is and always was not guilty. I ask you to do it with dispatch."

Bailey said Marilyn was beat-

Tentative plans call for an 18-minute movie on the purpose of planning, along with reports from Horace McLean of Youngstown, consultant, and James Morrissey, county planning director, and Floyd Lower, president of the commission.

Details of the program and site are to be worked out.

At last night's meeting, the commission gave tentative approval of proposed subdivision regulations prepared by a committee, headed by Richard Sanford, and referred them to the executive committee.

The revised regulations are to be presented to the county commissioners for adoption in January.

Plans were made for explaining the regulations at a meeting of realtors, bankers, developers and others Dec. 13 at Lisbon.

McLean reported on the development of a comprehensive plan for which he has a two-year contract, which started Oct. 1. He said he is currently working on completion of maps, land use studies and a transportation study, utilizing preparatory work done by committees of the commission.

A nominating committee was appointed by Lower. It consists of County Engineer John Ursu, Glenn Waight of East Liverpool and Ori Taylor of Lisbon.

County Files Action

Wellsville Named In Suit For $4,353 In Back Tax

The city of Wellsville is being sued by County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge for back taxes and penalties totaling $4,353.84, Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara informed Council at its meeting Tuesday night.

The sum represents taxes the city owes on the municipal sewage plant for the years 1959-65 inclusive. The site was not taken off the tax duplicate and reclassified as a non-profit, city-owned service, O'Hara said.

The legal document read to Council stated that if the money is not paid the county will take action to sell the plant in order to obtain the funds.

According to O'Hara, the slip-up came during the tenure of previous mayors and solicitors. He has taken steps in an attempt to block the action.

A motion of remission has been filed to have the county waive the taxes and penalties and declare the 16th St. and Riverside Ave. acreage exempt from regular taxation. The motions were filed in Auditor Kenneth Bell's office.

And the city will file for dismissal of the charges in a former legal answer to the suit.

THE FINANCE committee chairman, George Lawton, announced the Hilda Moore controversy has been settled.

He read a letter from Mayor William Daugherty stating Mrs. Moore has been paid $3,100 for the land her husband purchased from the city in 1956 and has been given an additional $25 for legal expenses. Daugherty's letter said a check of the county Courthouse at Lisbon revealed Mrs. Moore's deed never had been filed and also claimed the city had a release from the widow.

The report caused O'Hara to comment that he had not been contacted to assist in the negotiations despite the fact Council, at its last meeting, had moved that he handle the final arrangements. The solicitor said he was told no release had been procured from Mrs. Moore and indicated the city might yet be in jeopardy.

O'Hara commented that he rarely has been contacted by Daugherty on legal matters. The councilmen agreed, one declaring lots of things have been going on of a legal matter with the solicitor being bypassed."

Third Ward Councilman Nunzio Lombardozzi said the mayor should allow legal matters to be handled by those in that office while he tends to administrative details. "It seems the only time the solicitor gets to do anything is when it's too tough for them (the administration) to handle.

O'Hara requested the minutes show he was not kept informed of progress on the Moore incident.

TWO councilmanic recommendations to Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare were approved after introduction by Lombardozzi, chairman of the street and light committee.

Recount Set For Wilson In Hancock Vote

In a surprise move, the defeated Democratic candidate for Grant District Justice of the Peace, Julian C. Wilson, filed for a recount of ballots cast in the Nov. 8 general election in Hancock County.

The county commissioners, sitting as a board of canvassers, had completed official tabulation of the Clay and Grant District ballots, which showed Lloyd Nalley Jr. of Newell, Republicans, the victor by 395 votes (1,487-1,092).

Wilson, accompanied by his attorney, Leonard Tost of Weirton, appeared at the Courthouse in New Cumberland about 8:30 p.m. Tuesday and requested the recount. No reason was given.

The county clerk's office, which said the request, according to regulations, will be honored, said Wilson had posted the required bond and that the recount for the Grant District, involving Precincts 1 through 9, will begin Thursday afternoon at 1.

Nalley, commenting this morning on Wilson's action, said "I don't know what to think. If it had been close, say 30 or 50 votes, I could understand, but I won by over 300."

Dick Wright of Chester, longtime Hancock Democratic party leader, was appointed to the post in May 1965 during a special session of the Court of Commissioners to complete the term of Harry Lytton of Newell, who had died the previous week.

She Has Kidney Ailment

Man Appeals Draft Case In Fight For Wife's Life

DETROIT (AP) — Tom Michaels has told his draft board he can't fight for his country because he's fighting for his wife's life.

The 22-year-old spray painter at a truck plant is appealing the decision of Selective Service Board 303 in suburban Warren that he is 1A—qualified to enter military service immediately.

Her kidney failed Sept. 9, five days after their first wedding anniversary.

To stay alive, doctors said, Mrs. Michaels must have her blood filtered twice a week on an artificial kidney machine.

Mrs. Michaels said her husband must work to pay for her hospital care.

The young couple hopes to avoid a hospital bill of $10,000 a year by buying a $6,200 artificial kidney. Michaels would be trained to operate the marchine. He already has made a $1,200 down payment.

"I can't operate the machine myself while I'm on it," Mrs. Michaels said. "I could pass out or something. It's just not safe."

She said Michaels is the only person in their families who could spend the 10 hours required to filter her blood through the artificial kidney.

The draft board revoked Michaels' student deferment after he dropped out of senior-year classes in electrical engineering at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

He was spending almost all his spare time at his wife's bedside for nine weeks at three hospitals. He also took three weeks off his $5,500-a-year job at the Dodge truck plant.

Dr. Elsie Eng, their family physician at Cleveland Clinic in Cleveland, Ohio, and their parish priest wrote to the draft board in October. They explained the seriousness of Mrs. Michaels' kidney failure and her need for the kidney device.

"The board said the letters weren't specific enough as to why he was needed at home," Mrs. Michaels said.

Last Monday, the doctors again wrote to Board 303.

Panel Given 3 Choices Of Verdicts

Sheppard Murder Case Now In Hands Of Jury

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Samuel H. Sheppard's second-degree murder case went to a jury of seven men and five women at 10:30 a.m. today, midway in the fourth week of his retrial.

Common Pleas Judge Francis J. Talty gave the panel a choice of three verdicts in its judgment of Sheppard in the July 4, 1954, bludgeon slaying of his first wife, Marilyn.

The choices were: guilty of second-degree murder, for which the sentence is life; first-degree manslaughter, carrying a sentence of one to 20 years; or acquittal.

The jury retired from a courtroom directly across the corridor from the scene of Sheppard's 1954 conviction for second-degree murder. He served nine years in prison before winning a new trial from the U.S. Supreme Court.

Sheppard, who testified at his first trial, failed to take the witness stand this time. Judge Talty warned the jurors that he had a constitutional right to remain silent and that they were not to "draw any inferences from failure to testify."

Prosecutor John T. Corrigan spent only 24 minutes on his closing argument. He told jurors he was confident they would: "Bring back a verdict consistent with the facts of this case. A verdict that would tell Sam Sheppard he can't hide from the truth and tell the other would-be Sam Sheppards they also can't hide from the truth."

F. Lee Bailey, Sheppard's chief counsel, concluded his 70-minute argument by asking the jury "to put together a picture of what happened. And you can quickly say this man is and always was not guilty. I ask you to do it with dispatch."

Bailey said Marilyn was beat-

U.S. Trains Thai Men As Copter Pilots

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is training a number of officers from Thailand as helicopter pilots who can return home to teach Thai servicemen how to operate choppers against Communist forces.

Secretary of defense Robert S. McNamara recently rejected a suggestion by U. S. Ambassador Graham A. Martin to send American helicopter companies to Thailand to contain any possible insurrection.

Communists in the northeastern corner of the country have long been a problem to Thailand, an ally of the United States in its Southeast Asian operations.

Instead of committing Americans to what officials now consider a relatively small but nevertheless menacing problem in Thailand, the United States is helping the Thai government lay the foundations for a helicopter corps of its own.

The United States has provided Thailand with 25 choppers and is promising more under the military aid program. But Thailand only this year set up a helicopter training school and it takes weeks for an individual to learn even the basics of helicopter operations.

Meanwhile, Thai personnel are undergoing training at two U. S. bases — Ft. Wolters, Tex., and Ft. Rucker, Ala.

The Pentagon declined to discuss the training program, but The Associated Press learned 40 Thais have completed basic instruction so far this year at Ft. Wolters, the nation's primary helicopter training base. Twenty-eight more are to start the 16-week course between now and next March.

In addition to or among these are 20 Thai officers who will advance next month to more intensive chopper training, including tactics, and formation and instrument flying at Ft. Rucker.

With All Proper Humility

Successful completion of the Gemini series when Air Force Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. returned safely to earth Tuesday afternoon is doubly memorable.

For the astronauts and the scientific project they are carrying out so brilliantly, the wind-up of the Gemini flights is a memorable triumph of teamwork and planning. Nothing in the 20th century so far can equal the perfection of this scientific venture.

For the rest of us, the end of the Gemini flights and preparations for the Apollo series, last step in preparations for a landing on the moon by the end of this decade, mark the vindication of a judgment made by President Kennedy in behalf of the American people.

It was the Kennedy policy to push the United States into space as rapidly as possible. It challenges the imagination now in the closing weeks of 1966 to realize that Alan Shepard Jr. made that first sensational suborbital flight May 5, 1961—only a little more than five years ago.

The United States was desperately trying to catch up to the Soviet Union then. It has caught up now, though American acknowledges with all proper humility that Russia's cosmonauts are still favored to win the race to the moon because their government got a head start.

Russia and the United States are in a momentous competition that gives each a powerful motive to waste no time and spare no expenses in their space probes. It is ironic that whichever reaches the moon first will have scored a triumph for human ingenuity more than for national effort.

And it is now certain that whichever national effort scores the first moon landing will have strengthened the competing effort to duplicate the triumph and thereafter to embellish it with sophisticated additions.

This has been the special achievement of the United States in the Gemini series—sophisticated additions to Russian trail-blazing in space.

How To Make A Moderate

There used to be a story about a fellow who had been popping off in favor of socialism. He thought everybody should share and share alike.

He was asked to specify if he meant cows, horses, chickens, autos, ships, big buildings. He said he did. "You mean if you had two shirts you would give one to your neighbor?" was the final query.

"Of course not," he snapped. "I own two shirts and intend to keep both of them."

Responsibility is a great moderator. It is the acid test of theory — the moment of truth for ideologists who pop off about ideas for making over the country to suit themselves.

This is why political analysts are pointing now to Republicans in state governorships. These men are moderates. They have no choice but to be moderates if they head the government machinery of Northern states. Even Democrats are moderates in northern governorships.

Gov. Rhodes has stayed aloof from ideological wrangling. He has hammered tirelessly on a bipartisan theme of making Ohio attractive to enterprise so Ohioans can have good jobs at good wages.

The only crusade he has shown any interest in leading is a sales crusade for Ohio enterprise and Ohio advantages. It is doubtful if he would know what political ideologists are wrangling about if he monitored one of their marathon squabbles.

Moderate governors like Gov. Rhodes and moderate senators like Charles Percy of Illinois, Edmund Brooke of Massachusetts and Mark Hatfield of Oregon are now the voice of the Republican party.

They and the new Republican representatives in the House and the re-elected incumbents who will take their cue from the election returns are destined to give voters something more attractive to think about than the prospect of swinging from one extremism to another.

'Important Matter'

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Ever since 1950, the year the Korean war began and the Red Chinese got involved, the United States has been opposing U.N. membership for the Chinese Communists.

That was 16 years ago and ever since, by various parliamentary devices, the U. S. has succeeded in keeping out Red China. Now, once again this year, the try will be made.

The 121-member U.N. General Assembly is supposed to start debating Friday.

In the early 1950s the main American argument was Red China's intrusion into the Korean War. Now it focuses on Peking's involvement, in various ways, in the war in Viet Nam.

In the late 1950s and early 1960s, as the memory of Korea receded a bit, if either the Republican or Democratic administrations of those years had thought the time had come to admit Red China, it would have been politically unpopular.

Now the war in Viet Nam has abolished any chance of change in the American government's attitude.

IN THE EARLY 1950s, when the U.N. membership was much smaller, this country had no great problem in getting a good-sized majority to block U.N. membership for the Chinese Reds.

Later, as the membership increased, the American majority decreased and reached its low point in 1960. In the early years the U.S. had successfully opposed even debating U.N. membership for the Red Chinese.

But by 1961 it tried a new device which it has been using in one way or another since. This was to ask the assembly to consider admission of Red China as an "important matter."

Only a simple majority was needed to name the problem of Red Chinese membership an "important matter."

But once there was such a majority vote, then there would have to be debate on this "important matter" of admitting Red China. Then, when debate ended and the assembly voted on letting in Red China, a two - thirds' vote would be needed on this "important matter."

The Red Chinese haven't had enough sympathizers yet to provide the two - thirds vote. Last year the vote was 47 to 47, with 20 abstentions. This week the United States made its "important matter" proposal again.

THE SOVIET Union, despite its split with the Red Chinese, has supported U.N. membership for them. It will be fascinating to see what Moscow does this year because of something that happened this week in Bulgaria.

A Soviet - inspired effort toward reading Red China out of the Communist world ran into opposition. The Soviet Union will be in an awkward spot if, believing Red China is unfit for Communist partnership, it says China is fit for U.N. membership.

On the U.N. membership question, Washington must also consider its ally — Chiang Kaishek's Nationalist Chinese on Formosa. They have been a U.N. member from the beginning.

This country couldn't stand by and see Nationalist China thrown out for Red China. And any idea of two Chinas in the United Nations is killed this year, at least, by American opposition to Red Chinese membership at all.

Wealth Of The Seas

By Editorial Research

The economic potential of the oceans' resources will be one of the principal topics at the 16th semi-annual meeting of the Manufacturing Chemists Association in New York City Nov. 22.

The United States will spend only $20 million over the next two years on new programs of education, training, and research in the marine sciences. This comes on top of about $140 million a year on continuing sea studies, but the combined total is dwarfed by $5 billion spent on space exploration.

The new program is authorized by the National Sea Grant College and Program Act cleared by Congress late in the 1966 session. The House had voted $15 million for a two-year program; the Senate, $45 million for three years. The compromise was arrived at in conference and accepted by both chambers by voice vote.

Oceanographers are agreed that marine food resources alone could be developed to the point of meeting the world's need for protein. In the United States, however, the fishing industry is held back by antiquated ideas and laws.

Research in the United States has also been hampered by a lack of practical-minded experts. The new program will take us a few rewarding steps in that direction.

No new colleges will be built. Instead, marine research will be expanded at existing institutions. The new law also specifies that federal funds under the program may not be used to buy, rent, or build a building, dock, or vessel.

The law specifies that programs are to be initiated and conducted at "suitable public or private institutions of higher education, institutes, laboratories, and public or private agencies" which already are engaged in activities relating to the development of marine resources. It provides that an institution of higher education receiving a grant under the bill is to be known as a "sea grant college."

Proposals were submitted by Mid-November for a federal system of buoys for exploring, explaining, and exploiting the seas. The study is being sponsored by the Interagency Committee on Oceanography ICO. It is jointly supported by six federal departments and agencies whose missions will be aided by the availability of marine environmental data. The U.S. Coast Guard, which accepted the role of "lead agency" in the program, solicited the proposals.

"Knowledge of the oceans," the late President Kennedy said back in 1961, "is more than a matter of curiosity. Our very survival may hinge upon it."

Activities of the federal government in oceanography — aside from the new program—have grown greatly in the last few years — from about $28 million in fiscal 1958 to about $140 million in fiscal 1966.

The reasons are not obscure, though perhaps they have not been adequately elaborated. Knowledge to be gained from the ocean depths will have important bearing on national defense, on the design of undersea vessels and weapons, on sources of fuels and minerals in addition to food, on methods of preventing radioactive contamination, and on medical research.

But even if practical rewards were not in view, scientists would be drawn to the mysteries of the deep because it holds answers to many riddles of the earth's origin.

Seeing America First

Pilots Want More 'Risk Pay'

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — There's one thing about flying off into the wild blue yonder of Southeast Asia if you're a pilot — the pay is upper class. That is, if you're a commercial pilot. It's not only the $22,000 to $25,000 a year in direct money. It's the fringe you get. For grim example, if you're flying for the regular U.S. airlines and you get badly hurt or killed by the "hostile action of a representative of a foreign government," you get $100,000.

Victor Riesel

If you're a $100 - a - week fighter pilot and you get cut down, you get a medal and a couple of bucks in soldiers' insurance.

If you're a young officer flying for the government, you get about $25 a week extra for "hazardous duty pay." But if you're a member of the Air Line Pilots Association, (AFL-CIO) flying commercially, you're not quite as charitable.

In current negotiations with Trans World Airlines, the pilots are asking for a fringe tassle of $100-a-landing in Viet Nam.

THIS IS BUT ONE of many hard bids for risk pay which would begin at the point of departure for the vast war zone and Asian skies, and end back in the home airport.

The commercial lines such as TWA and Pan American Airways are carrying men and some cargo to the general war zone. Some of these flights are called "R and R" — rest and recreation flights.

Pan Am runs a massive aerial ferry. Its clipper ships roll out of Hong Kong, on to Saigon and then back to Hong Kong, Tokyo and Taipei with troops fatigued and eager for a break in the fighting and tension. Then back they go via Pan Am or TWA to the embattled fronts.

For such ferrying, co-pilots and younger captains earn at least $22,000 a year. Senior men handling jet craft take in at least $35,000 annually.

THOSE BASED AT PAN AM, Hong Kong, do pretty well with the side benefits. They get a special cost of living allowance. And then a $75-a-month incentive pay and another $75 atop that. This makes it a mighty rich "foreign station allowance."

One can understand their fear. But they are paid more heavily than the others for their fright.

Those ferry planes carry crews and the stewardesses are scared, too. No one doubts they have reason to be.

So the girls are willing to fly in with the young troops at a rate of $12 for each landing. This goes for hostesses and pursers.

THE GIRLS, mighty cheery company for young GI's not knowing what there will be when they get down out of the wild blue yonder, must eat, just like pilots. So the hostesses are granted, under their union contract, 46 cents per stopover hour for meals in Okinawa and 50 cents per hour on the Saigon runs.

They get $1.90 a day for laundry and tips. It all comes to a $13.90 per diem expense base and totals $25.90 with the special landing bonus. So one must assume that the pilots reckon themselves worth about four times the cabin crew.

The girls and the pursers serving or deadheading outside the continental U.S. on war area flights are covered by insurance totaling $50,000.

Of this, $15,000 is for accident, death or dismemberment coverage, and the additional $35,000 is for death or dismemberment arising out of cargo accidents or hostile action during a Pacific Military Airlift Command flight.

FOR THE PILOTS, on Pan Am for example, the total of such insurance is exactly twice that of the girls — $100,000.

Small wonder the Pentagon can't keep its pilots. Small wonder some 70 per cent of them quit and 60 per cent of these head for the commercial airlines.

The armed forces' aviators run into the commercial pilots in the hotels and night spots of Saigon. Judging from reports from some of the military, the fighter pilots are not exactly inspired by the news that the commercial men want $100 a landing in addition to a long list of fringes which includes the right to return to the U.S. every 45 days.

There should be some equity — especially in the wild blue yonder.

Moratorium?

By David Lawrence

Rights Suggestion Offered

What impact will the recent elections have on the civil-rights drive? This is being discussed not merely from the standpoint of politics but with respect to the future trend of the whole movement dealing with racial discrimination.

A significant statement on the subject has just been made by Dr. Sterling W. Brown, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

He declares that the civil-rights movement seems to be faltering because it has put its faith in naked power and has neglected "the techniques of brotherhood."

He says that relations among Roman Catholics, Protestants and Jews have "improved more in our generation than in any previous two or three centuries" and emphasizes that this has been accomplished "without demonstrations, public protests or displays of force."

He adds:

"The civil-rights revolution has lost ground in its legitimate struggle for equality. The civil-rights forces that seemed united and invincible half a year ago now appear disarrayed, confused and fearful that the gains of the last decade or two are crumbling.

"I fear that what is now occurring in race relations is the end result of neglecting education and scoffing at the techniques of brotherhood as irrelevant and ineffectual. Millions of small steps that could have been taken toward the achievement of equal rights and opportunities for all were spurned because each was not a giant step.

"The activist psychology which has been dominant in much of the civil-rights movement is faulty. Appeals to the minds of men are indispensable in human relations. They cannot be made to understand and accept each other unless sparks of compassion are somehow lighted in their hearts."

WHILE MANY people will agree with Dr. Brown's analysis, there is no gainsaying the fact the civil-rights movement has been reflecting a deep feeling of resentment and, indeed, the agonizing sadness of those Negroes who, after having obtained a good education, believe that they have not been given fair treatment in the business or professional world.

But in every public question on which grievances and injustices have accumulated over the years, there is always the more important issue — how corrective measures of remedies can be applied.

Negro leaders have taken it for granted that demonstrations — even though some lead to violence — are worthwhile as a means of publicizing inability to get equality of treatment.

These same leaders, however, have not anticipated the reactions of an electorate which recognizes a good objective but sees a wrong way being used in trying to attain it.

The recent election reflected a wave of protest by voters who did not disapprove of the purposes of the civil-rights movement but who seriously questioned the methods used.

Many negroes themselves are unhappy about the demonstrations that have led to violence.

TO FOSTER good relations between whites and Negroes, much has been done by bi-racial committees in many communities. This form of interchange of ideas has opened the eyes of many people to the fact the processes of reason are far better than coercion.

As population in America grows, the problem of race relations will become more pressing. But solutions will not be found merely through legislation or protest demonstrations.

Indeed, the wisest thing Negro leaders could do would be to declare a moratorium on demonstrations of all kinds for a year or two while community efforts to establish better relations between whites and Negroes are given an opportunity to develop the kind of cooperation that will eventually break down the barriers of racial friction and substitute human understanding.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Perhaps this will be too late for you to use, but I feel that someone should go on record in support of our fine football team and band for the fine spirit they showed last Friday evening despite the poor weather condition.

I could not help to think, while I watched them, of how the people in the stands have left them down during the current struggle over school finances. Perhaps there is still another way in which we can give them the help they need.

This short note is written as a request to everyone involved, the school management, Board of Education, Citizens Committee for Better Schools and the public as a whole to reunite and come forward with some type of a program for keeping our various school activities going.

Certainly we owe this much to our children.

It provides that an institution of higher education receiving a grant under the bill is to be known as a "sea grant college."

Proposals were submitted by Mid-November for a federal system of buoys for exploring, explaining, and exploiting the seas. The study is being sponsored by the Interagency Committee on Oceanography ICO. It is jointly supported by six federal departments and agencies whose missions will be aided by the availability of marine environmental data. The U.S. Coast Guard, which accepted the role of "lead agency" in the program, solicited the proposals.

"Knowledge of the oceans," the late President Kennedy said back in 1961, "is more than a matter of curiosity. Our very survival may hinge upon it."

Activities of the federal government in oceanography — aside from the new program—have grown greatly in the last few years — from about $28 million in fiscal 1958 to about $140 million in fiscal 1966.

The reasons are not obscure, though perhaps they have not been adequately elaborated. Knowledge to be gained from the ocean depths will have important bearing on national defense, on the design of undersea vessels and weapons, on sources of fuels and minerals in addition to food, on methods of preventing radioactive contamination, and on medical research.

But even if practical rewards were not in view, scientists would be drawn to the mysteries of the deep because it holds answers to many riddles of the earth's origin.

Pilots Want More 'Risk Pay'

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — There's one thing about flying off into the wild blue yonder of Southeast Asia if you're a pilot — the pay is upper class. That is, if you're a commercial pilot. It's not only the $22,000 to $25,000 a year in direct money. It's the fringe you get. For grim example, if you're flying for the regular U.S. airlines and you get badly hurt or killed by the "hostile action of a representative of a foreign government," you get $100,000.

Victor Riesel

If you're a $100 - a - week fighter pilot and you get cut down, you get a medal and a couple of bucks in soldiers' insurance.

If you're a young officer flying for the government, you get about $25 a week extra for "hazardous duty pay." But if you're a member of the Air Line Pilots Association, (AFL-CIO) flying commercially, you're not quite as charitable.

In current negotiations with Trans World Airlines, the pilots are asking for a fringe tassle of $100-a-landing in Viet Nam.

THIS IS BUT ONE of many hard bids for risk pay which would begin at the point of departure for the vast war zone and Asian skies, and end back in the home airport.

The commercial lines such as TWA and Pan American Airways are carrying men and some cargo to the general war zone. Some of these flights are called "R and R" — rest and recreation flights.

Pan Am runs a massive aerial ferry. Its clipper ships roll out of Hong Kong, on to Saigon and then back to Hong Kong, Tokyo and Taipei with troops fatigued and eager for a break in the fighting and tension. Then back they go via Pan Am or TWA to the embattled fronts.

For such ferrying, co-pilots and younger captains earn at least $22,000 a year. Senior men handling jet craft take in at least $35,000 annually.

THOSE BASED AT PAN AM, Hong Kong, do pretty well with the side benefits. They get a special cost of living allowance. And then a $75-a-month incentive pay and another $75 atop that. This makes it a mighty rich "foreign station allowance."

One can understand their fear. But they are paid more heavily than the others for their fright.

Those ferry planes carry crews and the stewardesses are scared, too. No one doubts they have reason to be.

These girls, members of the Transport Workers Union, must be satisfied with having palpitations at lower rates. Class is class. Pilots are pilots, even in the same flying stock.

So the girls are willing to fly in with the young troops at a rate of $12 for each landing. This goes for hostesses and pursers.

THE GIRLS, mighty cheery company for young GI's not knowing what there will be when they get down out of the wild blue yonder, must eat, just like pilots. So the hostesses are granted, under their union contract, 46 cents per stopover hour for meals in Okinawa and 50 cents per hour on the Saigon runs.

They get $1.90 a day for laundry and tips. It all comes to a $13.90 per diem expense base and totals $25.90 with the special landing bonus. So one must assume that the pilots reckon themselves worth about four times the cabin crew.

The girls and the pursers serving or deadheading outside the continental U.S. on war area flights are covered by insurance totaling $50,000.

Of this, $15,000 is for accident, death or dismemberment coverage, and the additional $35,000 is for death or dismemberment arising out of cargo accidents or hostile action during a Pacific Military Airlift Command flight.

FOR THE PILOTS, on Pan Am for example, the total of such insurance is exactly twice that of the girls — $100,000.

Small wonder the Pentagon can't keep its pilots. Small wonder some 70 per cent of them quit and 60 per cent of these head for the commercial airlines.

The armed forces' aviators run into the commercial pilots in the hotels and night spots of Saigon. Judging from reports from some of the military, the fighter pilots are not exactly inspired by the news that the commercial men want $100 a landing in addition to a long list of fringes which includes the right to return to the U.S. every 45 days.

There should be some equity — especially in the wild blue yonder.

Moratorium?

By David Lawrence

Rights Suggestion Offered

What impact will the recent elections have on the civil-rights drive? This is being discussed not merely from the standpoint of politics but with respect to the future trend of the whole movement dealing with racial discrimination.

A significant statement on the subject has just been made by Dr. Sterling W. Brown, president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

He declares that the civil-rights movement seems to be faltering because it has put its faith in naked power and has neglected "the techniques of brotherhood."

He says that relations among Roman Catholics, Protestants and Jews have "improved more in our generation than in any previous two or three centuries" and emphasizes that this has been accomplished "without demonstrations, public protests or displays of force."

He adds:

"The civil-rights revolution has lost ground in its legitimate struggle for equality. The civil-rights forces that seemed united and invincible half a year ago now appear disarrayed, confused and fearful that the gains of the last decade or two are crumbling.

"I fear that what is now occurring in race relations is the end result of neglecting education and scoffing at the techniques of brotherhood as irrelevant and ineffectual. Millions of small steps that could have been taken toward the achievement of equal rights and opportunities for all were spurned because each was not a giant step.

"The activist psychology which has been dominant in much of the civil-rights movement is faulty. Appeals to the minds of men are indispensable in human relations. They cannot be made to understand and accept each other unless sparks of compassion are somehow lighted in their hearts."

WHILE MANY people will agree with Dr. Brown's analysis, there is no gainsaying the fact the civil-rights movement has been reflecting a deep feeling of resentment and, indeed, the agonizing sadness of those Negroes who, after having obtained a good education, believe that they have not been given fair treatment in the business or professional world.

But in every public question on which grievances and injustices have accumulated over the years, there is always the more important issue — how corrective measures of remedies can be applied.

Negro leaders have taken it for granted that demonstrations — even though some lead to violence — are worthwhile as a means of publicizing inability to get equality of treatment.

These same leaders, however, have not anticipated the reactions of an electorate which recognizes a good objective but sees a wrong way being used in trying to attain it.

The recent election reflected a wave of protest by voters who did not disapprove of the purposes of the civil-rights movement but who seriously questioned the methods used.

Many negroes themselves are unhappy about the demonstrations that have led to violence.

TO FOSTER good relations between whites and Negroes, much has been done by bi-racial committees in many communities. This form of interchange of ideas has opened the eyes of many people to the fact the processes of reason are far better than coercion.

As population in America grows, the problem of race relations will become more pressing. But solutions will not be found merely through legislation or protest demonstrations.

Indeed, the wisest thing Negro leaders could do would be to declare a moratorium on demonstrations of all kinds for a year or two while community efforts to establish better relations between whites and Negroes are given an opportunity to develop the kind of cooperation that will eventually break down the barriers of racial friction and substitute human understanding.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Perhaps this will be too late for you to use, but I feel that someone should go on record in support of our fine football team and band for the fine spirit they showed last Friday evening despite the poor weather condition.

I could not help to think, while I watched them, of how the people in the stands have left them down during the current struggle over school finances. Perhaps there is still another way in which we can give them the help they need.

This short note is written as a request to everyone involved, the school management, Board of Education, Citizens Committee for Better Schools and the public as a whole to reunite and come forward with some type of a program for keeping our various school activities going.

Certainly we owe this much to our children.

Gales Rake Britain 2nd Straight Day

LONDON (AP) — Gales hit Britain today for the second dav in succession, ripping roofs and causing widespread delays to trains and shipping.

More than two dozen vessels sheltered from high seas off Deal, southern England. Channel ferry services to the Continent were canceled.

A London weather center spokesman said there was a chance of more freak storms like the 100-mile whirlwind Tuesday which toppled a belltower through the roof of a school at Leicester injuring 21 children.

The Cunard liner Carinthia, which should have sailed Tuesday night for Canada, was forced to stay in port at Liverpool along with many other vessels.

Trains from London arrived three hours late in Glasgow. High winds had blown two huts onto the track.

Gales caused extra heavy damage in the Manchester area of northern England. Roofs were blown off and firemen were called out to remove chimneys weakened by the winds.

In other parts of Britain, traffic was snarled by large trees being blown down across highways.

Warrants Issued As Two Fail To Appear In Court

Bench warrants were issued for the arrest of two East End residents when they failed to appear for hearings this morning in Municipal Court on charges of failure to file city income tax returns.

A continuance was granted in a third case when the defendant claimed he had filed his return and could produce proof.

Judge Samuel Chertoff ordered bench warrants against McKinley Pack of 2133 Michigan Ave. and Lynwood Wilson of 2100 Crawford Ave. when they failed to appear for hearings on affidavits filed by Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson.

Edward D. Pack of 1235 Pennsylvania Ave. appeared, but claimed he had papers at home to prove he had filed his returns. The court continued the case until Nov. 23 to give Pack time to straighten out the incident.

These were three of several cases pending before the court. Twenty - eight cases were filed Oct. 20 by the tax commissioner.

'Accidental' Ruling Set In Chester Fire

A ruling of "accidental" has been returned in the fire which destroyed the building housing Nickles Bakers, Inc., and the Chester Baking Co. at Chester last Wednesday night.

The decision was handed down following an investigation by E. L. Roush of Parkersburg, assistant West Virginia fire marshal, and Alton Johnson, chief of the Chester volunteer department. Lee Haney, secretary, reported today.

No evidence was uncovered to indicate anything of a suspicious nature and, although the exact cause was not pinpointed, it will be entered officially as "accidental" in fire department records, Haney said.

Operation Attleboro continued, a unit of the 1st Infantry Division reported destroying a Viet Cong camp and finding 15 enemy dead. A U.S. spokesman said they were killed by air strikes by F100 Super Sabre jets.

Other units of the 1st Division uncovered 490 tons of rice in two caches to bring the total rice captured in Operation Attleboro to a near record 2,000 tons.

U.S. forces have reported killing 965 Communist soldiers since the operation to flush out the Viet Cong 9th Division started Oct. 15. An estimated 30,000 U.S. troops are pushing the hunt.

Another company of the 1st Division came under enemy mortar fire early today about 20 miles northwest of Saigon, and a U.S. spokesman said the 180-man unit suffered moderate casualties. The infantrymen killed nine Viet Cong and captured one, the spokesman said.

B52 Stratoforts staged a second raid today and struck at a suspected Viet Cong training and supply area 15 miles west of the northern coastal city of Hue.

President's 2 Operations Successful

Moyers said that while at the time the press secretary spoke the President was communicating with his doctors and staff by means of pencil and pad, he "will be able to use his voice (later) today. . . ."

However, he will not be allowed to make any formal speeches for about four to five weeks and apparently in the meantime will be instructed to use his voice as sparingly as possible.

Moyers said Johnson will suffer some discomfort for about three or four weeks resulting from swollen tissue at the site of the polyp removal in his throat.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, under a standing agreement with Johnson, had been empowered to make any necessary presidential decisions during the time Johnson was under anesthesia — a period of barely 90 minutes.

Moyers said that, as it turned out, no action by Humphrey was required.

Mrs. Johnson was with the President early this morning before the operation, having remained in the hospital overnight.

Immediately after the operation ended, Dr. Cain went to her room in the presidential suite to inform the First Lady that the operation had been successful.

At Mrs. Johnson's suggestion, daughters Lynda and Luci had remained at the White House during the operation and Mrs. Johnson telephoned them with the good news afterwards. The girls were expected to visit their father later today, Moyers said.

Asked about the possibility of a recurrence of the throat polyp, Moyers said Dr. Gould had reported it was "possible, but unlikely."

A team of six doctors performed the work at the National Naval Medical Center in suburban Bethesda, Md.

Moyers, reading a statement and deferring all questions until later, began by saying the growth removed from the edge of one of Johnson's vocal cords proved to be benign, or nonmalignant.

Here is the text of Moyers' announcement:

"The surgery has been completed. A benign polyp was removed from the edge of the President's vocal cord and the incisional hernia closed. The operation began about 6:27 and ended at 7:20. The President is resting well and the doctors are satisfied with the outcome of the surgery and the President's condition."

Under a standing agreement, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey stood ready to act if any emergencies requiring immediate decision arose while Johnson was under anesthesia.

It was the President's second operation in 57 weeks. The surgery was to correct a pair of presidential problems:

1. A growth near Johnson's right vocal cord, which has caused some huskiness in his voice. It was first noticed in August.

Dr. Wilbur J. Gould, Johnson's throat specialist, has said polyps of its type are generally not malignant. Nevertheless, scientists will examine the removed polyp for any trace of malignancy.

2. A lump at the end of his gall bladder scar, described as being about the diameter of a silver dollar. It has caused Johnson some discomfort and led him to wear a back brace to ease the strain on his abdomen and reduce the size of the protrusion.

This problem was first noted last April. In medical language, it is an incisional hernia, the product of weakness in the scar tissue. It occurred at the site of the temporary drain installed after removal of the gall bladder to clear away any dangerous fluid as the incision healed.

The protrusion had enlarged in recent weeks — notably after the rigors of Johnson's 17-day mission to the Far East.

The President seemed in a jaunty mood as he arrived at the hospital in the Maryland suburbs Tuesday night. His black limousine pulled into the grounds at 7 p.m., hours later than had been expected.

When he is able to travel, Johnson plans to return to his LBJ Ranch and stay there most of the time until Congress convenes Jan. 10.

Gunman Being Sought In Holdup Of Bank

CLEVELAND (AP) — A gunman who escaped with $5,249 in a holdup at a Cleveland Trust Co. branch bank in East Cleveland was being sought by police and FBI agents today.

Miss Lorraine Gredye, 22, a teller, told the FBI the robber entered the bank Tuesday afternoon and handed her a shoping bag and a note demanding the money from her cash drawer.

City ordinance permits the safety - service director to adopt the recommendations for a trial period of not more than 90 days.

In other street and light committee action, Willis Howard of 701 Washington St. received permission of Council to cut 20 to 25 feet of curb in order to gain access to his 7th St. garage.

The committee agreed to vote at the next meeting relative to the city taking over maintenance of an outdoor light now owned by a resident on Commerce St. between 6th and 7th Sts.

Brad Phillips reported a traffic signal at 10th and Center Sts., which has been showing red and green lights to both flows of traffic momentarily, is not causing a major problem. On the advice of Fire Chief Robert Lewis, he recommended Council do nothing, since the only alternatives were adjusting the light to turn immediately from green to red without a warning or replacing the entire unit.

FOLLOWING AN announcement by O'Hara, Council approved a request from the state of Ohio to place historical markers at entrances to the city pointing out that Wellsville was widely known in the early 1800's for the construction of flatboats for use on the Ohio River.

A notice from the Columbiana County Board of Elections was read requiring candidates and committees to file reports no later than Dec. 10 listing all campaign expenditures of more than $25. O'Hara recommended a letter be sent informing the board that no money was spent by the city in the recent election.

Phillips and the residents of Wellsville were given a vote of thanks for passage of the one-mill cemetery levy.

Phillips reported the city planning board is one member below its full strength of three and said the matter must be remedied before low - cost housing programs can begin.

A letter was read from the police department requesting two of its members who attended four weeks of classes in Lisbon in accordance with the Ohio Police Training Code be compensated. A meeting will be held by members of the finance committee and the officers concerned.

Lawton reported Chief Lewis informed him the traffic light on 3rd St. was broken and would need $200 to $300 worth of repairs.

Glen Mathess and John McGarey were excused from last night's meeting.

In other street and light committee action, Willis Howard of 701 Washington St. received permission of Council to cut 20 to 25 feet of curb in order to gain access to his 7th St. garage.

The committee agreed to vote at the next meeting relative to the city taking over maintenance of an outdoor light now owned by a resident on Commerce St. between 6th and 7th Sts.

Brad Phillips reported a traffic signal at 10th and Center Sts., which has been showing red and green lights to both flows of traffic momentarily, is not causing a major problem. On the advice of Fire Chief Robert Lewis, he recommended Council do nothing, since the only alternatives were adjusting the light to turn immediately from green to red without a warning or replacing the entire unit.

FOLLOWING AN announcement by O'Hara, Council approved a request from the state of Ohio to place historical markers at entrances to the city pointing out that Wellsville was widely known in the early 1800's for the construction of flatboats for use on the Ohio River.

A notice from the Columbiana County Board of Elections was read requiring candidates and committees to file reports no later than Dec. 10 listing all campaign expenditures of more than $25. O'Hara recommended a letter be sent informing the board that no money was spent by the city in the recent election.

Phillips and the residents of Wellsville were given a vote of thanks for passage of the one-mill cemetery levy.

Phillips reported the city planning board is one member below its full strength of three and said the matter must be remedied before low - cost housing programs can begin.

A letter was read from the police department requesting two of its members who attended four weeks of classes in Lisbon in accordance with the Ohio Police Training Code be compensated. A meeting will be held by members of the finance committee and the officers concerned.

Lawton reported Chief Lewis informed him the traffic light on 3rd St. was broken and would need $200 to $300 worth of repairs.

Glen Mathess and John McGarey were excused from last night's meeting.

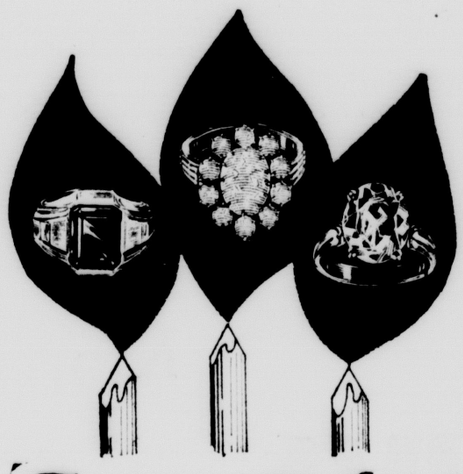
IMPORTANCE OF YOUR JEWELER

The day you buy your diamond or special jewelry piece is thrill-packed. But if you are like most laymen, how do you know what to get, or what you are getting?

Few things are as misunderstood to purchasers as precious gems. Diamonds, especially, require the consideration of four factors in determining quality and value. Jewelers refer to these points as the "Four C's" - - - Cutting, Color, Clarity and Carat Weight.

Therefore, your first step must be to a reliable jeweler. Here, too, you will find a much broader selection than elsewhere. In our store, there is no rush about buying. We take the time to fully and accurately explain the nuances of the gem you select. Also, it is possible for us to obtain exactly what you are looking for if we do not have it in stock at the moment. This is especially true of large or unusual pieces which are customarily sent on order to jewelers requesting a specific item. It is virtually impossible today for a jeweler of any size to carry every gem or jewelry design that may be wanted.

Through our gemological training, you will find us to be an invaluable consultant in your purchase. For example, we know why diamonds or certain colored gems look better in one type of setting than another. We consider not only style - - what is fashionable - - but what is best for you, for your personality, and your shape of hand. Added to this is the prestige of having purchased in a fine, respected establishment, as attested by our membership in The American Gem Society.



Fascinating Birthstones

Enhance your luck, according to age-old legends, by wearing the special gem associated with your month of birth. Select from our array of exotic colored gems set in rings, cufflinks, brooches or pendants. We will be happy to explain the gemological characteristics of the stone you choose, and perhaps some of the lore as well. You can be sure of such competent interest and help whenever you purchase fine jewelry in a member firm of the American Gem Society.

DIABETES WEEK
NOVEMBER 13th to 20th

There are too many unknown diabetics, so this week is set aside to urge every susceptible person to make a safety check. Because there are no discomfort pains at the onset of diabetes, this disease can cause serious harm before normal discovery.

If there is a history of any diabetics in the family and especially if overweight, diabetes is a hazard. About one out of every 50 has it. A quick easy test is to dip a strip of testing paper in the urine. If there is a color change showing sugar, a more positive test by a physician is a "must." We stock this testing paper in our very complete Diabetic-Aids section.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US WHEN YOU need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

Watterson Voted Grid Title; Potters Gain No. 10 Spot

Stanton Finishes 7th In 'A' Rating

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus Watterson boosted central Ohio Scholastic football to its highest niche ever today, claiming the mythical state championship by topping The Associated Press poll.

Coach Dick Walker's powerhouse shaded two other unbeaten giants in balloting conducted by sports writers and sportscasters throughout Ohio.

The unbeaten Eagles garnered 206 poll points in nosing out two-time champion Niles by five points and Sandusky, last year's runner-up, by 16.

All three completed their seasons last Friday with unblemished 10-0 records. But the Eagles closed out in awesome fashion with a lopsided 32-0 triumph over potent Upper Arlington.

That impressive showing knocked Arlington from the top spot to sixth place and vaulted the Eagles all the way from fifth to the No. 1 rating.

It marked the first time since the AP poll was begun in 1947 that a team from outside the northern sectors had emerged with the coveted title.

Walker, 33, a product of John Carroll, quit his Watterson post to take over as head coach at Warren Western Reserve last spring. But he had a change of heart before going to Warren, returned to Watterson and made his seventh campaign here the greatest in his 10-year career.

The Eagles, who finished fourth a year ago with a 9-0 record, now boast a string of 23 straight without defeat. They mowed down their 10 foes by a 350-40 scoring margin, posting six shutouts en route to the throne.

Once-beaten Steubenville (9-1) which held the lead almost every week until stumbling against Massillon, finished fourth.

Rounding out the elite circle were Hamilton Garfield (9-0), Arlington (9-1), Columbus Eastmoor (9-0), Akron Hoban (9-1), Louisville (10-0) and newcomer East Liverpool (9-1). The latter team moved in replacing No. 7 Dover (9-1) which bowed for the first time last weekend in an 8-0 loss to New Philadelphia.

Once-mighty Massillon, state champ the last two years and holder of 11 titles, suffered a 4-5-1 season and received only three points.

Both Niles and Sandusky stayed in hot pursuit by registering impressive triumphs. The Dragons stopped Warren Harding 22-6 and the Blue Streaks blasted Mansfield Senior 34-0.

In the small school balloting, the Class A championship went to Marion Catholic (9-0). Coach Max Ross' gridders, wrapping up their second consecutive 9-0 winning season, drew 137 points and nipped Millersport (10-0) by six points.

It was a handsome honor for Ross and his squad who led the rankings all year after finishing runner-up to Dover St. Joseph in 1965.

Coach George Murphy's Millersport Lakers closed the gap from 10 points to six after ringing up their 21st straight decision but their bid fell short.

Rounding out the Class A top ten were Unioto (9-0), Sandusky St. Mary (10-0), New Albany (9-0), Portsmouth Notre Dame (9-0), Stanton Local (9-0), Clear Fork (9-0-1), Bluffton (9-0) and Columbus Academy (7-1).

Bluffton replaced Brookville (7-2) which lost last Friday for the second time to a AA school.

Scribe Picks Irish To Down Spartans

ARA PARSEGHIAN
Waits Big One Saturday.

Says Defense Will Make Difference

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Notre Dame will defeat Michigan State Saturday in college football's Game of the Decade — and the Irish defense will be responsible.

The names of the Notre Dame passing combination of Terry Hanratty to Jim Seymour plus the two running backs, Nick Eddy and Larry Conjar, virtually have become household names during the season with its eight straight victories.

But who knowns the names of the defensive unit that blanked five of those opponents and allowed the other three foes only a total of four touchdowns?

This is the initial Notre Dame foursome which will be there to greet any Michigan State ball carrier: Kevin Hardy, 270 pounds, and Pete Duranko, 240, at the tackles, and Allen Page, 240, and Tom Rhoads, 220, at ends.

Michigan State's defense is keyed to Bubba Smith, the end who towers 6-7 and weighs 290. Sometimes he shifts to middle guard but no matter where he is, the opposition doesn't try to annoy him. The Spartan attack, which has scored the points that has meant nine successive triumphs, has Bob Apisa doing the heavy blasting; Clinton Jones and Dwight Lee sweeping the ends; and Jim Raye doing the throwing.

But it will be the defense that decides.

UCLA over Southern California: The tension for this one, which will decide the Pacific 8 Rose Bowl representative, has been building up since a year ago when UCLA squeaked past the Trojans, 20-14. Southern Cal's vaunted defense, which yielded only 49 points in eight games, meets its master in the Bruins' Gary Beban.

Wyoming over Brigham Young: Here's another one that pits the two top contenders for a conference title against each other. With the Western Athletic loop laurels at stake, the nod goes to Jerry DePoyster of the Cowboys.

North Carolina State over Clemson: Clemson already has won at least a tie for the Atlantic Coast Conference flag but could be pulled back to the field by dropping its final two games to N.C. State and South Carolina.

Harvard over Yale: Harvard needs a triumph in this traditional contest for a share of the Ivy League title. The Crimson boasts two top running backs in Bobby Leo and Vic Gatto, Yale has the better passer in Pete Doherty.

Princeton over Cornell: The Tigers' already the Big Three champions, could tie for the Ivy League honors with a victory.

Arkansas over Texas Tech: It is almost monotonous, but if the Porkers win this one they are in the Cotton Bowl for the third straight year.

Search Is On For Coach At Kansas State

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Kansas State officials said the search for a head football coach to replace Doug Weaver began immediately after he resigned Tuesday, they praised his dedication — then they stopped talking and so did Weaver.

H. B. (Bebe) Lee, K-State athletic director for 10 years, and Dean C. (Clyde) Jones, chairman of the athletic board, said a committee to screen candidates was being set up. A meeting of the athletic board was set for Monday.

Weaver dropped a curtain of silence after telling his squad of his decision. He canceled all his public appearances for the rest of the week, including his regular press conference after the Oklahoma State game here Saturday.

Weaver, 35, a former Michigan State linebacker and Missouri assistant, has two years remaining on a three-year contract and Lee said an effort would be made to retain Weaver in another capacity.

Ironically, Weaver steps down at a time when his seven-year rebuilding program is showing signs of future promise. He has some of the best sophomores in the league and the freshman squad is the best ever.

K-State has an 0-8-1 record this season, with the last victory in 1964.

Weaver's best team was the 1964 club, 3-4 in Big Eight play and 3-7 for the season. His overall record is 8-59-1.

Head Injuries Claim Arkansas U. Tackle

HOUSTON (AP) — Claude Smithey, defensive tackle on the University of Arkansas football team, died Tuesday in Methodist Hospital.

He was taken to the hospital Oct. 29 shortly after he collapsed in the dressing room following the Arkansas-Texas A&M game in College Station, Tex.

Arkansas coaches said he played only briefly in the A&M game and films showed no blow on the head that could have caused the injury.

Edges LA's Koufax

Clemente Named NL's MVP

The Review Sports
WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 16, 1966 PAGE 12

By MURRAY CHASS

NEW YORK (AP) — Roberto Clemente, flashy right fielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was named the National League's Most Valuable Player today, edging Los Angeles' Sandy Koufax by only 10 points.

Clemente, whose timely and explosive hitting helped the Pirates come close to winning the pennant, received one less first-place vote than 27-game winner Koufax but won on total points, 218 to 208. Clemente had eight votes for first, Koufax nine.

Koufax won the MVP award in 1963 and finished second to San Francisco's Willie Mays last year. Just two weeks ago the brilliant Dodger left-hander was named, for an unprecedented third time, the winner of the Cy Young Award as baseball's best pitcher.

Clemente, who batted .317, hit 29 homers and drove in 119 runs, was the only player named on all 20 ballots which were cast by two baseball writers in each league city. Koufax was named on all but one ballot, but even if he had drawn a second-place vote on that one he would have fallen one point short.

A first-place vote is worth 14 points, a second-place nine, a third-place eight and down to one for 10th place.

Clemente, 32 and a 12-year veteran, received eight votes for first, 10 for second and two for third. Koufax, who became a 20-game winner for the third time, collected nine votes for first, six for second, one for third, two for fourth and one for fifth.

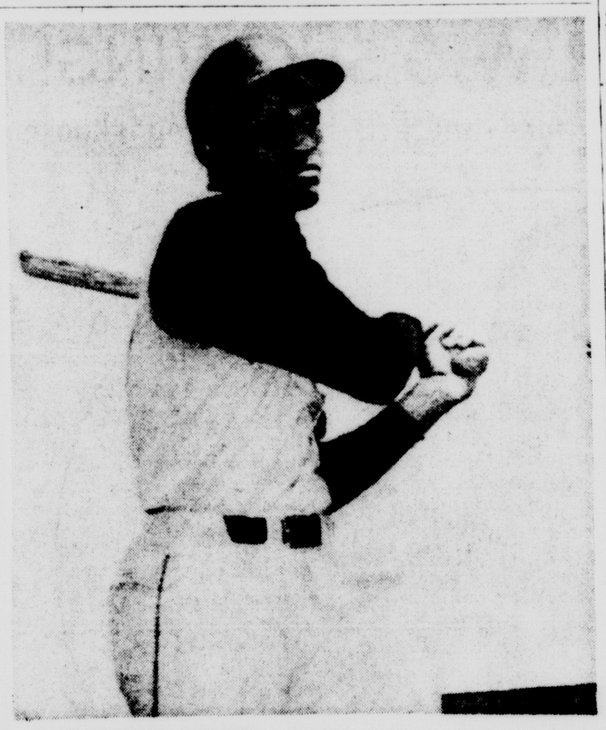
Felipe Alou of Atlanta drew two first-place votes and finished fifth with 83 points while Philadelphia's Rich Allen got the other vote for first and placed fourth with 107. Mays had 111 for third.

Rounding out the first 10 are Juan Marichal, San Francisco, 74; Phil Regan, Los Angeles, 66; Hank Aaron, Atlanta, 57; Matty Alou, Pittsburgh, 37, and Pete Rose, Cincinnati, 31.

The award for Clemente comes in a year when he missed winning a third straight batting title and fourth over-all. His .317 average was fourth best in the league, but his 29 homers and 119 RBI were the most he's ever had in one season.

Clemente's performance was the primary reason the Pirates led the league for much of the season. They faltered near the end, were eliminated from contention on the next-to-the-last day of the season and finished in third place, three games out.

Despite the constant pain in his left arm, Koufax pitched the Dodgers to their second straight pennant. And for the second straight season he won the pennant-clinching game.



PITTSBURGH PIRATE outfielder Roberto Clemente beat out Los Angeles Dodgers' pitcher Sandy Koufax by only 10 points to win his first National League Most Valuable Player award picked by the Baseball Writers Association of America. (UPI Telephoto)

Clippers Stretch Winning Streak To Five In AHL

By The Associated Press

The Baltimore Clippers, hottest team in the American Hockey League, stretched their winning streak to five games with a 6-4 comeback victory over Buffalo Tuesday night. In the only other AHL game played, Quebec's three-goal third period rally fell short as Pittsburgh held on for a 5-4 victory over the Aces, who dropped their fourth straight.

New Leaders Take Over In NFL Figures

NEW YORK (AP) — Unless Dave Parks of San Francisco starts grabbing passes at twice his current rate there might not be one individual champion retaining his title in the National Football League this year.

The big one—the rushing crown—will be worn by someone else because of Jimmy Brown's retirement, but even in other statistical departments the 1965 titlists are way back of the current leaders or already out of the race.

Right now the rushing title is up for grabs among Dick Bass of Los Angeles, Cleveland's Leroy Kelly and Gale Sayers of Chicago, who have gained 744, 730 and 715 yards in that order.

Last year's passing leader, John Brodie, is down in seventh place with Bart Starr of Green Bay No. 1, followed by Washington's Sonny Jurgensen and Don Meredith of Dallas.

Parks, who missed two games, still is a threat in receiving, although he currently is in 10th place, 16 catches behind front-running Pat Studstill of Detroit, who has grabbed 53 passes.

Kelly, last year's punt return leader, is fourth in that department this season with rookie Johnny Roland of St. Louis holding the lead with a 12.3 average. Bobby Boyd of Baltimore, last year's interception leader, is 10th with four compared to nine for Larry Wilson of St. Louis.

Schmidt's Student New Lion Defensive Star

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joe Schmidt, Detroit's man in the middle for 13 years, gets the credit for another fine job of linebacking for the Lions. A ND that's quite a trick when you consider that Schmidt hasn't tackled a man in anger since last season.

When Schmidt retired after last year, the Lions kept him in their organization as linebacking coach. His No. 1 student was Mike Lucci, the heir apparent to his job. And the way Lucci has come through makes you believe that Schmidt is as fine a teacher as he was a linebacker.

Lucci intercepted three Fran Tarkenton passes last Sunday, ran one back 53 yards for a touchdown and was named the National Football League's Defensive Player of the Week for his part in Detroit's 25-24 victory over Minnesota.

"It was just a combination of my being in the right place at the right time and our line's hard rush on Tarkenton," Lucci said later. "All three times I sensed where the ball was going and cut in front of the receiver."

Two of Lucci's interceptions set up field goals by Garo Yepremian and the other resulted in the touchdown.

When Schmidt announced his retirement, the Lions tried to change his mind and, failing that, got him to agree to stay on as linebacking coach. Lucci was his No. 1 project.

Watterson Voted Grid Title; Potters Gain No. 10 Spot

Stanton Finishes 7th In 'A' Rating

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus Watterson boosted central Ohio Scholastic football to its highest niche ever today, claiming the mythical state championship by topping The Associated Press poll.

Coach Dick Walker's powerhouse shaded two other unbeaten giants in balloting conducted by sports writers and sportscasters throughout Ohio.

The unbeaten Eagles garnered 206 poll points in nosing out two-time champion Niles by five points and Sandusky, last year's runner-up, by 16.

All three completed their seasons last Friday with unblemished 10-0 records. But the Eagles closed out in awesome fashion with a lopsided 32-0 triumph over potent Upper Arlington.

That impressive showing knocked Arlington from the top spot to sixth place and vaulted the Eagles all the way from fifth to the No. 1 rating.

It marked the first time since the AP poll was begun in 1947 that a team from outside the northern sectors had emerged with the coveted title.

Walker, 33, a product of John Carroll, quit his Watterson post to take over as head coach at Warren Western Reserve last spring. But he had a change of heart before going to Warren, returned to Watterson and made his seventh campaign here the greatest in his 10-year career.

The Eagles, who finished fourth a year ago with a 9-0 record, now boast a string of 23 straight without defeat. They mowed down their 10 foes by a 350-40 scoring margin, posting six shutouts en route to the throne.

Once-beaten Steubenville (9-1) which held the lead almost every week until stumbling against Massillon, finished fourth.

Rounding out the elite circle were Hamilton Garfield (9-0), Arlington (9-1), Columbus Eastmoor (9-0), Akron Hoban (9-1), Louisville (10-0) and newcomer East Liverpool (9-1). The latter team moved in replacing No. 7 Dover (9-1) which bowed for the first time last weekend in an 8-0 loss to New Philadelphia.

Once-mighty Massillon, state champ the last two years and holder of 11 titles, suffered a 4-5-1 season and received only three points.

Both Niles and Sandusky stayed in hot pursuit by registering impressive triumphs. The Dragons stopped Warren Harding 22-6 and the Blue Streaks blasted Mansfield Senior 34-0.

In the small school balloting, the Class A championship went to Marion Catholic (9-0). Coach Max Ross' gridders, wrapping up their second consecutive 9-0 winning season, drew 137 points and nipped Millersport (10-0) by six points.

It was a handsome honor for Ross and his squad who led the rankings all year after finishing runner-up to Dover St. Joseph in 1965.

Coach George Murphy's Millersport Lakers closed the gap from 10 points to six after ringing up their 21st straight decision but their bid fell short.

Rounding out the Class A top ten were Unioto (9-0), Sandusky St. Mary (10-0), New Albany (9-0), Portsmouth Notre Dame (9-0), Stanton Local (9-0), Clear Fork (9-0-1), Bluffton (9-0) and Columbus Academy (7-1).

Scribe Picks Irish To Down Spartans

Says Defense Will Make Difference

ARA PARSEGHIAN
Waits Big One Saturday.

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Notre Dame will defeat Michigan State Saturday in college football's Game of the Decade — and the Irish defense will be responsible.

The names of the Notre Dame passing combination of Terry Hanratty to Jim Seymour plus the two running backs, Nick Eddy and Larry Conjar, virtually have become household names during the season with its eight straight victories.

But who knowns the names of the defensive unit that blanked five of those opponents and allowed the other three foes only a total of four touchdowns?

This is the initial Notre Dame foursome which will be there to greet any Michigan State ball carrier: Kevin Hardy, 270 pounds, and Pete Duranko, 240, at the tackles, and Allen Page, 240, and Tom Rhoads, 220, at ends.

Michigan State's defense is keyed to Bubba Smith, the end who towers 6-7 and weighs 290. Sometimes he shifts to middle guard but no matter where he is, the opposition doesn't try to annoy him. The Spartan attack, which has scored the points that has meant nine successive triumphs, has Bob Apisa doing the heavy blasting; Clinton Jones and Dwight Lee sweeping the ends; and Jim Raye doing the throwing.

But it will be the defense that decides.

UCLA over Southern California: The tension for this one, which will decide the Pacific 8 Rose Bowl representative, has been building up since a year ago when UCLA squeaked past the Trojans, 20-14. Southern Cal's vaunted defense, which yielded only 49 points in eight games, meets its master in the Bruins' Gary Beban.

Wyoming over Brigham Young: Here's another one that pits the two top contenders for a conference title against each other. With the Western Athletic loop laurels at stake, the nod goes to Jerry DePoyster of the Cowboys.

North Carolina State over Clemson: Clemson already has won at least a tie for the Atlantic Coast Conference flag but could be pulled back to the field by dropping its final two games to N.C. State and South Carolina.

Harvard over Yale: Harvard needs a triumph in this traditional contest for a share of the Ivy League title. The Crimson boasts two top running backs in Bobby Leo and Vic Gatto, Yale has the better passer in Pete Doherty.

Princeton over Cornell: The Tigers' already the Big Three champions, could tie for the Ivy League honors with a victory.

Arkansas over Texas Tech: It is almost monotonous, but if the Porkers win this one they are in the Cotton Bowl for the third straight year.

Search Is On For Coach At Kansas State

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Kansas State officials said the search for a head football coach to replace Doug Weaver began immediately after he resigned Tuesday, they praised his dedication — then they stopped talking and so did Weaver.

H. B. (Bebe) Lee, K-State athletic director for 10 years, and Dean C. (Clyde) Jones, chairman of the athletic board, said a committee to screen candidates was being set up. A meeting of the athletic board was set for Monday.

Weaver dropped a curtain of silence after telling his squad of his decision. He canceled all his public appearances for the rest of the week, including his regular press conference after the Oklahoma State game here Saturday.

Weaver, 35, a former Michigan State linebacker and Missouri assistant, has two years remaining on a three-year contract and Lee said an effort would be made to retain Weaver in another capacity.

Ironically, Weaver steps down at a time when his seven-year rebuilding program is showing signs of future promise. He has some of the best sophomores in the league and the freshman squad is the best ever.

K-State has an 0-8-1 record this season, with the last victory in 1964.

Weaver's best team was the 1964 club, 3-4 in Big Eight play and 3-7 for the season. His overall record is 8-59-1.

Head Injuries Claim Arkansas U. Tackle

HOUSTON (AP) — Claude Smithey, defensive tackle on the University of Arkansas football team, died Tuesday in Methodist Hospital.

He was taken to the hospital Oct. 29 shortly after he collapsed in the dressing room following the Arkansas-Texas A&M game in College Station, Tex.

Arkansas coaches said he played only briefly in the A&M game and films showed no blow on the head that could have caused the injury.

Edges LA's Koufax

Clemente Named NL's MVP

By MURRAY CHASS

NEW YORK (AP) — Roberto Clemente, flashy right fielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was named the National League's Most Valuable Player today, edging Los Angeles' Sandy Koufax by only 10 points.

Clemente, whose timely and explosive hitting helped the Pirates come close to winning the pennant, received one less first-place vote than 27-game winner Koufax but won on total points, 218 to 208. Clemente had eight votes for first, Koufax nine.

Koufax won the MVP award in 1963 and finished second to San Francisco's Willie Mays last year. Just two weeks ago the brilliant Dodger left-hander was named, for an unprecedented third time, the winner of the Cy Young Award as baseball's best pitcher.

Clemente, who batted .317, hit 29 homers and drove in 119 runs, was the only player named on all 20 ballots which were cast by two baseball writers in each league city. Koufax was named on all but one ballot, but even if he had drawn a second-place vote on that one he would have fallen one point short.

A first-place vote is worth 14 points, a second-place nine, a third-place eight and down to one for 10th place.

Clemente, 32 and a 12-year veteran, received eight votes for first, 10 for second and two for third. Koufax, who became a 20-game winner for the third time, collected nine votes for first, six for second, one for third, two for fourth and one for fifth.

Felipe Alou of Atlanta drew two first-place votes and finished fifth with 83 points while Philadelphia's Rich Allen got the other vote for first and placed fourth with 107. Mays had 111 for third.

Rounding out the first 10 are Juan Marichal, San Francisco, 74; Phil Regan, Los Angeles, 66; Hank Aaron, Atlanta, 57; Matty Alou, Pittsburgh, 37, and Pete Rose, Cincinnati, 31.

The award for Clemente comes in a year when he missed winning a third straight batting title and fourth over-all. His .317 average was fourth best in the league, but his 29 homers and 119 RBI were the most he's ever had in one season.

Clemente's performance was the primary reason the Pirates led the league for much of the season. They faltered near the end, were eliminated from contention on the next-to-the-last day of the season and finished in third place, three games out.

Despite the constant pain in his left arm, Koufax pitched the Dodgers to their second straight pennant. And for the second straight season he won the pennant-clinching game.

Clippers Stretch Winning Streak To Five In AHL

By The Associated Press

The Baltimore Clippers, hottest team in the American Hockey League, stretched their winning streak to five games with a 6-4 comeback victory over Buffalo Tuesday night. In the only other AHL game played, Quebec's three-goal third period rally fell short as Pittsburgh held on for a 5-4 victory over the Aces, who dropped their fourth straight.

'Younger Members Won't Crack'

Irish Standouts Say Team Is Really Up For Big One

By WILL GRIMSLEY

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame's Baby Bombers, Terry Hanratty and Jim Seymour, are tense but not panicky over the big game with tough Michigan State Saturday.

"Sure, I feel a little nervous, but the whole team does," acknowledged Seymour, the 19-year-old pass-catching end of the Fighting Irish's celebrated sophomore battery today.

"It's not that we're jittery or scared. We're just all fired up. I've never seen a team so up for a game."

Hanratty, the 18 - year - old quarterback, said he felt there was no chance that the younger members of the team might crack under the pressure of such an important game.

"We've played eight games already," he added. "Besides, the older men on the team — Larry Conjar, Nick Eddy, George Goeddeke — will keep us settled down."

Notre Dame's hopes of winning the national championship and completing its first perfect season since 1949 depends largely on this pair of rookies who have captured the imagination of the country.

Their poise will be given a severe test at East Lansing, Mich., Saturday by a big, rugged and quick Michigan State team which has swept through nine games in a row. Notre Dame, top-ranked nationally, is a three-point favorite over the No. 2 Spartans.

Hanratty, a 6-foot-1, 190-pound throwing whiz from Butler, Pa., has completed 77 of 143 passes for 1,221 yards and eight touchdowns. He can whip a sidearm short pass through a maize of enemy arms or hit a moving target half the distance down the field.

Seymour, 6-4 and 205 pounds, is quick and has remarkable moves. He has caught 37 passes for 712 yards and six touchdowns.

The rangy end from Berkley, Mich., injured his ankle in the Oklahoma game Oct. 22, but returned to the lineup against Duke last week. "My ankle is fine," he says. "I'll be ready."

Finkel Makes Return Home With Lakers

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Cincinnati Royals, striving to make up for a slow start, take on a healthy Jerry West and the Los Angeles Lakers in a National Basketball Association game here tonight.

But Dayton fans no doubt will be looking forward to seeing Henry Finkel. The 7-foot center, a Lakers' rookie, returns here for the first time after starring three years at the University of Dayton.

"Inconsistency had been our big trouble," he said.

West, meanwhile, apparently has fully recovered from a left foot injury. He missed his teams first nine games, but returned to action Saturday night and hit 14 of 18 field goal attempts in the Lakers' 144 - 88 mauling of the Detroit Pistons.

Los Angeles is floundering in last place in the Western Division with a 4-10 record.

Browns To Face Skins Air Game

CLEVELAND (AP)— Ladies and gentlemen:

Presenting the National Football League's aerial circus, starring Sonny Jurgensen, with assistants Bobby Mitchell and Charley Taylor.

Charley Taylor, isn't he a fullback? He was.

Taylor was the NFL's Rookie of the Year in 1964 with 755 yards rushing and led the Washington Redskins ground attack last season. So what's he doing as a split end?

"I think you'll understand why we're using Taylor as a receiver when you see him Sunday," said Redskins Coach Otto Graham, who brings his club to Municipal Stadium against the Cleveland Browns.

"He's a very good one right now. I believe he can become the best in the league. Charley not only catches the ball, but can run with it after he grabs it."

The NFL statistics show the 6-foot-3, 210-pounder is the second best receiver in the league with 45 catches for 716 yards and seven touchdowns. Close behind in fourth place is flanker Bobby Mitchell, with 44 grabs for 756 yards and eight touchdowns.

In charge of the Redskins' offense is Jurgensen, the veteran quarterback who has completed 180 of 311 passes. The completions are tops in the NFL and Jurgensen is ranked second behind Green Bay's Bart Starr, the league leader.

Purdue, Wildcat Coaches Won't Predict A Winner

CHICAGO (AP)—Every football buff in the country is busy trying to figure who will win the Notre Dame-Michigan State football game Saturday but there are only two men who have first-hand knowledge.

Agase and Mollenkopf have the distinction and misfortune of being the only coaches who have faced both Michigan State and Notre Dame.

"Let's say the final score will be 15-14," Mollenkopf told the Chicago Football Writers Tuesday, "and you can pick your own winner.

"Notre Dame is deeper in personnel," said Mollenkopf "and Michigan State may have an edge in speed. Both defenses are great. I don't think either team can run against the other and must rely on passing. Notre Dame has shown better passing."

Agase feels there is no way to measure a game upon which so much is at stake.

"Throw all past performances out the window," said Agase. "you have to rate them even-stephen and start from scratch.

"Coaches know one hundred per cent what their own team will attempt and ninety per cent what the opposition will try to do."

Oddly enough, Notre Dame and Michigan State had opposite experiences against the common rivals which both teams faced on successive weekends.

Notre Dame struggled to a 26-14 victory over Purdue and the following week blew Northwestern apart 35-7.

Michigan State ran into Purdue at midseason, piled up a 28-0 lead in the third quarter and coasted to a 41-20 victory. The following week the Spartans ran into a dogged Northwestern team and were hard pressed to put across a 22-0 decision in a game which was a lot closer than the score indicates.

Hanratty, Raye Running Even In Offense Dept.

NEW YORK (AP) — The quarterback duel between Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame and Jimmy Raye of Michigan State in Saturday's college football showdown at East Lansing, Mich., shapes up as a statistical standoff.

According to weekly NCAA figures released today, Hanratty and Raye are running neck-and-neck in offensive productivity.

Hanratty, a sophomore, stands 23rd in the nation in total offense and Raye, a junior, is 24th. Each has run for five touchdowns and their passing figures are strikingly similar.

Hanratty, who has thrown the ball more often than Raye, holds a .538 to .534 edge in completion percentage. Hanratty has completed 77 of 143 passes in eight games, Raye 55 of 103 in nine games.

Raye has tossed 10 touchdown passes, Hanratty eight. Raye leads the nation in yardage per pass attempt with a 9.4-yard average. Hanratty is third, with an 8.5-yard average, behind Bo Burris of Houston.

Hank Washington of West Texas State is the total offense leader for the third straight week. He has a 58-yard margin over runner-up Virgil Carter of Brigham Young.

In the last two years Sandy Koufax has won 53 games. He is the first National League pitcher to win 50 or more in two years since 1952-53 when Robin Roberts won 28 and 23, respectively.

Excited Son Of Dallas Kicker Falls Into Pool

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboys' kicker Danny Villanueva, who admits, "This has not been one of my better seasons," probably kicked the most important field goal of his life last Sunday.

The kick, from the Washington 20-yard line with 15 seconds to play, gave Dallas a 31-30 victory. It possibly saved the life of his 3-year-old son Jimmy.

While Papa Villanueva was 1,400 miles away in Washington playing football, Jimmy had visited a friend in the apartment complex where Danny, his wife Myrna, and their two sons live.

After the game Jimmy was running home and was so excited about his father winning the game that he fell into a swimming pool. A neighbor, Robert Somerell, saw the boy fall, jumped into six feet of water and rescued Jimmy.

"I don't know what would have happened if I had missed that field goal," Villanueva said today. "It is so ironic. I had kicked a field goal that won a game.

"A terrific roar went up in the apartment house when the game was over and he (Somerell) went to the door to go outside and saw my boy falling in the pool."

Villanueva, 29, in his seventh year in the National Football League, said the game-winning kick was the "finest hour of my career. The team needed it and the town needed it. I never kicked a bigger one.

"This has not been one of my better seasons. I'm not hitting the ball as well as I should have. This field goal just might do wonders for me."

Villanueva, who came to the Cowboys last season in a trade with the Los Angeles Rams' added that the moment he went on the field to try the three-pointer "I had an awful feeling I just can't describe.

"I had it in my power to save or destroy a season. It was a season for a whole town. I never saw a town more emotionally involved in a team than Dallas."

Arfons Fails In Speed Bid

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Art Arfons wasn't sure today if he would try again to better the world land speed record.

He tried Tuesday but could reach speeds of only 534 and 555 miles per hour, considerably lower than the record of 600 m.p.h. set a year ago Tuesday by Craig Breedlove of Los Angeles.

Arfons' Green Monster jet car developed engine trouble and a fin device to stabilize the car was damaged in Tuesday's runs.

An engine tune-up at nearby Wendover Air Force Base was scheduled today. Arfons also said he wanted some more charges for releasing his parachute braking system.

He said if the engine tune-up was satisfactory and the parachute brake charges arrive, he might try again this afternoon. Otherwise, Arfons said he would wait until Thursday or later in the week.

Ohio U. Shooting At 5-5 Season After 0-10 Record

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio University, which can't finish higher than fourth place in the Mid-American Conference standings, could be the team to beat in the 1967 pennant chase.

Coach Bill Hess' Bobcats currently are riding a four-game losing streak and need a victory over Marshall Saturday to finish at the .500 mark.

But a 5-5 record is considerably better than the 0-10 nightmare Ohio suffered through a year ago.

Hess can bank on a fine nucleus of backs including Ron DeLucca, Jay Maupin and bulldozing Bob Houmard, kicking specialist Bill Pataki and possibly the finest freshmen crop ever grown at Athens

The six other clubs in the league all have outstanding talent returning next season but co-champion Miami figures to suffer the most via graduation.

Jim Boreland, a fine quarterback, and fullback Tim Majerle should supply Western Michigan with a potent one-two punch but the Broncs figure to miss all-conference tackle Bob Rowe, halfback Gary Crain and end Dave Mollard.

Bowling Green, with soph sensation P. J. Nyitray at the controls, could be a strong contender. Also returning is Eddie Jones the league's record - breaking sophomore end, halfback Dave Cranmer and tackle Tom Luettke.

Kent, despite a disappointing 3-6 campaign, is a young club that could be ready to move. The big guns next season should be power fullback Don Fitzgerald, backs Billy Blunt and Joe Pledger and quarterback Ron Swartz.

Hard-luck Toledo has passing whiz John Schneider in the fold plus halfback Pete Kramer, defensive end TQOM Beutler, tailback Roland Moss and fullback Bob Pfefferle.

Marshall will be without its two best backs, Andy Socha and Mickey Jackson. But the Herd has signal-caller Jim Torrence returning, in addition to their three best receivers, John DeMarco, Ken Simpson and Paris Coleman.

Arkansas Sub Is Selected Back Of Week

By The Associated Press

Sophomore tailback David Dickey spent most of Arkansas' first six games as a bench warmer, but since then he's been hotter than the proverbial pistol.

Dickey fired a big shot last Saturday at Arkansas' prime football target — the Cotton Bowl — by leading the sixth-ranked Razorbacks to a 22-0 victory over Southern Methodist.

For his efforts — a Southwest Conference record 38 carries for 133 yards, including two last period touchdown plunges — the 6-foot-1, 204-pounder from Palestine, Tex., was named today as The Associated Press College Back of the Week.

Dickey's rushing yardage against SMU was 17 yards more than the Mustangs gained in 37 carriers. The victory gave Arkansas a 5-1 conference record and made it the favorite for the host spot in the Cotton Bowl.

76ers Gain 12th Win In 13 Contests

NEW YORK (AP) — Hal Greer has been practicing six years to give Coach Alex Hannum a proper thank you. Now, with some help from his Philadelphia 76er teammates, he thinks he has it.

"We beat Boston by only one game last year, but lost the playoffs," Greer says. "We figure we ought to win it by seven games this season and take the playoffs, too."

If Greer is right, and the 76ers do end the Celtics' eight-year reign over the National Basketball Association, what better thank you could Hannum get?

The way Greer and his teammates looked Tuesday night and thus far this season, Greer's thoughts might come as true as his jump shot.

The 76er guard, who got his first starting chance in the NBA from Hannum six years ago with Syracuse, dropped in 33 points as Philadelphia raced to a 92-60 lead and then watched reserves hang on for a 113-109 victory over the New York Knicks.

In the only other game, at St. Louis, the Hawks pulled away from Chicago in the final minutes for a 107-99 victory behind Lennie Wilkens' 30 points.

The decision for Philadelphia was its 12th in 13 games this season and increased its Eastern Division lead over the idle Celtics to 1½ games.

'Younger Members Won't Crack'

By WILL GRIMSLEY

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame's Baby Bombers, Terry Hanratty and Jim Seymour, are tense but not panicky over the big game with tough Michigan State Saturday.

"Sure, I feel a little nervous, but the whole team does," acknowledged Seymour, the 19-year-old pass-catching end of the Fighting Irish's celebrated sophomore battery today.

"It's not that we're jittery or scared. We're just all fired up. I've never seen a team so up for a game."

Hanratty, the 18 - year - old quarterback, said he felt there was no chance that the younger members of the team might crack under the pressure of such an important game.

"We've played eight games already," he added. "Besides, the older men on the team — Larry Conjar, Nick Eddy, George Goeddeke — will keep us settled down."

Notre Dame's hopes of winning the national championship and completing its first perfect season since 1949 depends largely on this pair of rookies who have captured the imagination of the country.

Their poise will be given a severe test at East Lansing, Mich., Saturday by a big, rugged and quick Michigan State team which has swept through nine games in a row. Notre Dame, top-ranked nationally, is a three-point favorite over the No. 2 Spartans.

Hanratty, a 6-foot-1, 190-pound throwing whiz from Butler, Pa., has completed 77 of 143 passes for 1,221 yards and eight touchdowns. He can whip a sidearm short pass through a maize of enemy arms or hit a moving target half the distance down the field.

Seymour, 6-4 and 205 pounds, is quick and has remarkable moves. He has caught 37 passes for 712 yards and six touchdowns.

The rangy end from Berkley, Mich., injured his ankle in the Oklahoma game Oct. 22, but returned to the lineup against Duke last week. "My ankle is fine," he says. "I'll be ready."

Finkel Makes Return Home With Lakers

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Cincinnati Royals, striving to make up for a slow start, take on a healthy Jerry West and the Los Angeles Lakers in a National Basketball Association game here tonight.

But Dayton fans no doubt will be looking forward to seeing Henry Finkel, The 7-foot center, a Lakers' rookie, returns here for the first time after starring three years at the University of Dayton.

"Inconsistency had been our big trouble," he said.

West, meanwhile, apparently has fully recovered from a left foot injury. He missed his teams first nine games, but returned to action Saturday night and hit 14 of 18 field goal attempts in the Lakers' 144 - 88 mauling of the Detroit Pistons.

Los Angeles is floundering in last place in the Western Division with a 4-10 record.

Browns To Face Skins Air Game

CLEVELAND (AP)— Ladies and gentlemen:

Presenting the National Football League's aerial circus, starring Sonny Jurgensen, with assistants Bobby Mitchell and Charley Taylor.

Charley Taylor, isn't he a fullback? He was.

Taylor was the NFL's Rookie of the Year in 1964 with 755 yards rushing and led the Washington Redskins ground attack last season. So what's he doing as a split end?

"I think you'll understand why we're using Taylor as a receiver when you see him Sunday," said Redskins Coach Otto Graham, who brings his club to Municipal Stadium against the Cleveland Browns.

"He's a very good one right now. I believe he can become the best in the league. Charley not only catches the ball, but can run with it after he grabs it."

The NFL statistics show the 6-foot-3, 210-pounder is the second best receiver in the league with 45 catches for 716 yards and seven touchdowns. Close behind in fourth place is flanker Bobby Mitchell, with 44 grabs for 756 yards and eight touchdowns.

In charge of the Redskins' offense is Jurgensen, the veteran quarterback who has completed 180 of 311 passes. The completions are tops in the NFL and Jurgensen is ranked second behind Green Bay's Bart Starr, the league leader.

Purdue, Wildcat Coaches Won't Predict A Winner

CHICAGO (AP)—Every football buff in the country is busy trying to figure who will win the Notre Dame-Michigan State football game Saturday but there are only two men who have first-hand knowledge.

Agase and Mollenkopf have the distinction and misfortune of being the only coaches who have faced both Michigan State and Notre Dame.

"Let's say the final score will be 15-14," Mollenkopf told the Chicago Football Writers Tuesday, "and you can pick your own winner.

"Notre Dame is deeper in personnel," said Mollenkopf "and Michigan State may have an edge in speed. Both defenses are great. I don't think either team can run against the other and must rely on passing. Notre Dame has shown better passing."

Agase feels there is no way to measure a game upon which so much is at stake.

"Throw all past performances out the window," said Agase. "you have to rate them even-stephen and start from scratch.

"Coaches know one hundred per cent what their own team will attempt and ninety per cent what the opposition will try to do."

Oddly enough, Notre Dame and Michigan State had opposite experiences against the common rivals which both teams faced on successive weekends.

Notre Dame struggled to a 26-14 victory over Purdue and the following week blew Northwestern apart 35-7.

Michigan State ran into Purdue at midseason, piled up a 28-0 lead in the third quarter and coasted to a 41-20 victory. The following week the Spartans ran into a dogged Northwestern team and were hard pressed to put across a 22-0 decision in a game which was a lot closer than the score indicates.

Hanratty, Raye Running Even In Offense Dept.

NEW YORK (AP) — The quarterback duel between Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame and Jimmy Raye of Michigan State in Saturday's college football showdown at East Lansing, Mich., shapes up as a statistical standoff.

According to weekly NCAA figures released today, Hanratty and Raye are running neck-and-neck in offensive productivity.

Hanratty, a sophomore, stands 23rd in the nation in total offense and Raye, a junior, is 24th. Each has run for five touchdowns and their passing figures are strikingly similar.

Hanratty, who has thrown the ball more often than Raye, holds a .538 to .534 edge in completion percentage. Hanratty has completed 77 of 143 passes in eight games, Raye 55 of 103 in nine games.

Raye has tossed 10 touchdown passes, Hanratty eight. Raye leads the nation in yardage per pass attempt with a 9.4-yard average. Hanratty is third, with an 8.5-yard average, behind Bo Burris of Houston.

Hank Washington of West Texas State is the total offense leader for the third straight week. He has a 58-yard margin over runner-up Virgil Carter of Brigham Young.

In the last two years Sandy Koufax has won 53 games. He is the first National League pitcher to win 50 or more in two years since 1952-53 when Robin Roberts won 28 and 23, respectively.

Excited Son Of Dallas Kicker Falls Into Pool

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboys' kicker Danny Villanueva, who admits, "This has not been one of my better seasons," probably kicked the most important field goal of his life last Sunday.

The kick, from the Washington 20-yard line with 15 seconds to play, gave Dallas a 31-30 victory. It possibly saved the life of his 3-year-old son Jimmy.

While Papa Villanueva was 1,400 miles away in Washington playing football, Jimmy had visited a friend in the apartment complex where Danny, his wife Myrna, and their two sons live.

After the game Jimmy was running home and was so excited about his father winning the game that he fell into a swimming pool. A neighbor, Robert Somerell, saw the boy fall, jumped into six feet of water and rescued Jimmy.

"I don't know what would have happened if I had missed that field goal," Villanueva said today. "It is so ironic. I had kicked a field goal that won a game.

"A terrific roar went up in the apartment house when the game was over and he (Somerell) went to the door to go outside and saw my boy falling in the pool."

Villanueva, 29, in his seventh year in the National Football League, said the game-winning kick was the "finest hour of my career. The team needed it and the town needed it. I never kicked a bigger one.

"This has not been one of my better seasons. I'm not hitting the ball as well as I should have. This field goal just might do wonders for me."

Villanueva, who came to the Cowboys last season in a trade with the Los Angeles Rams' added that the moment he went on the field to try the three-pointer "I had an awful feeling I just can't describe.

"I had it in my power to save or destroy a season. It was a season for a whole town. I never saw a town more emotionally involved in a team than Dallas."

Arfons Fails In Speed Bid

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Art Arfons wasn't sure today if he would try again to better the world land speed record.

He tried Tuesday but could reach speeds of only 534 and 555 miles per hour, considerably lower than the record of 600 m.p.h. set a year ago Tuesday by Craig Breedlove of Los Angeles.

Arfons' Green Monster jet car developed engine trouble and a fin device to stabilize the car was damaged in Tuesday's runs.

An engine tune-up at nearby Wendover Air Force Base was scheduled today. Arfons also said he wanted some more charges for releasing his parachute braking system.

He said if the engine tune-up was satisfactory and the parachute brake charges arrive, he might try again this afternoon. Otherwise, Arfons said he would wait until Thursday or later in the week.

Ohio U. Shooting At 5-5 Season After 0-10 Record

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio University, which can't finish higher than fourth place in the Mid-American Conference standings, could be the team to beat in the 1967 pennant chase.

But a 5-5 record is considerably better than the 0-10 nightmare Ohio suffered through a year ago.

Hess can bank on a fine nucleus of backs including Ron DeLucca, Jay Maupin and bulldozing Bob Houmard, kicking specialist Bill Pataki and possibly the finest freshmen crop ever grown at Athens.

The six other clubs in the league all have outstanding talent returning next season but co-champion Miami figures to suffer the most via graduation.

Jim Boreland, a fine quarterback, and fullback Tim Majerle should supply Western Michigan with a potent one-two punch but the Broncs figure to miss all-conference tackle Bob Rowe, halfback Gary Crain and end Dave Mollard.

Bowling Green, with soph sensation P. J. Nyitray at the controls, could be a strong contender. Also returning is Eddie Jones the league's record - breaking sophomore end, halfback Dave Cranmer and tackle Tom Luettke.

Kent, despite a disappointing 3-6 campaign, is a young club that could be ready to move. The big guns next season should be power fullback Don Fitzgerald, backs Billy Blunt and Joe Pledger and quarterback Ron Swartz.

Hard-luck Toledo has passing whiz John Schneider in the fold plus halfback Pete Kramer, defensive end TQOM Beutler, tailback Roland Moss and fullback Bob Pfefferle.

Marshall will be without its two best backs, Andy Socha and Mickey Jackson. But the Herd has signal-caller Jim Torrence returning, in addition to their three best receivers, John DeMarco, Ken Simpson and Paris Coleman.

Arkansas Sub Is Selected Back Of Week

By The Associated Press

Sophomore tailback David Dickey spent most of Arkansas' first six games as a bench warmer, but since then he's been hotter than the proverbial pistol.

Dickey fired a big shot last Saturday at Arkansas' prime football target — the Cotton Bowl — by leading the sixth-ranked Razorbacks to a 22-9 victory over Southern Methodist.

For his efforts — a Southwest Conference record 38 carries for 133 yards, including two last period touchdown plunges — the 6-foot-1, 204-pounder from Palestine, Tex., was named today as The Associated Press College Back of the Week.

Dickey's rushing yardage against SMU was 17 yards more than the Mustangs gained in 37 carriers. The victory gave Arkansas a 5-1 conference record and made it the favorite for the host spot in the Cotton Bowl.

76ers Gain 12th Win In 13 Contests

NEW YORK (AP) — Hal Greer has been practicing six years to give Coach Alex Hannum a proper thank you. Now, with some help from his Philadelphia 76er teammates, he thinks he has it.

"We beat Boston by only one game last year, but lost the playoffs," Greer says. "We figure we ought to win it by seven games this season and take the playoffs, too."

If Greer is right, and the 76ers do end the Celtics' eight-year reign over the National Basketball Association, what better thank you could Hannum get?

The way Greer and his teammates looked Tuesday night and thus far this season, Greer's thoughts might come as true as his jump shot.

The 76er guard, who got his first starting chance in the NBA from Hannum six years ago with Syracuse, dropped in 33 points as Philadelphia raced to a 92-60 lead and then watched reserves hang on for a 113-109 victory over the New York Knicks.

In the only other game, at St. Louis, the Hawks pulled away from Chicago in the final minutes for a 107-99 victory behind Lennie Wilkens' 30 points.

The decision for Philadelphia was its 12th in 13 games this season and increased its Eastern Division lead over the idle Celtics to 1½ games.

City Man Due Hearing For Juvenile Charge

Robert Graham, 21, of Youngs Alley pleaded not guilty Tuesday in Juvenile Court at Lisbon on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and a formal hearing was set for Dec. 13.

Graham was cited early Sunday morning in connection with the injuring of 17-year-old Edna Louise Wolfe at the girl's home. An assault and battery charge was filed by her father, Mark Wolfe.

First definite traces of the science of algebra were found in the writings of Ahmes, an Egyptian who lived about 1700 B.C.

approved by President Johnson soon after the landing. Lovell had been promoted after an earlier Gemini mission.

The space walk proved that man, with proper pacing and equipment, can do constructive jobs outside an orbiting vehicle. He will be questioned closely about his excursions in the debriefings.

Space officials had considerable praise for the Gemini program which successfully accomplished its goal as a bridge to the moon, proving out all techniques required to move into the Apollo program.

Gemini, which sent 20 men into space in 20 months, "has given us a great legacy to the space program," said Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center.

NASA officials conceded that the Apollo program has some problems, but that they expect to land men on the moon by 1970. The present timetable calls for two astronauts to step on the surface in 1968.

The first three-man earth orbit flight in the Apollo program had been scheduled this month, but slipped to January or February because of problems with the spacecraft life support and fuel tank systems.

en to death by "someone with an awful hate, a hate this defendant could never have known."

Sheppard, 42-year-old former osteopath, was convicted of second-degree murder Dec. 21, 1954, after a nine-week trial. He served nine years in prison before being released on bond by a U.S. District Court in Dayton, Ohio, July 16, 1964.

The U.S. Supreme Court overturned the conviction in June and ordered that Sheppard be retried or freed. It said prejudicial news coverage denied Sheppard a fair trial.

At the first trial, Sheppard was charged with first-degree murder. The state asked for the death penalty and stressed Sheppard's affair with Susan Hayes, a former laboratory technician, a key state witness then who was not called for the retrial.

Hunt Is Pressed For Missing Man In Robbery Case

LISBON — The FBI and a Canton bonding company are hunting for Robert Payne, 38, former Massillon resident wanted by Columbiana County to serve a prison sentence.

A Common Pleas Court jury on Oct. 26, 1965, found Payne guilty of a charge of assaulting Mrs. Stella Frantum of East Rochester on July 18, 1965, with intent to commit robbery.

A month later, Judge Joel H. Sharp sentenced Payne to 1 to 15 years in Ohio State Penitentiary. The execution of sentence was suspended pending outcome of an appeal and Payne was released on $5,000 bond. When he disappeared while on bond, Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan filed an "unlawful flight" warrant with the FBI.

The M. & T. Bonding Co., which went bail for Payne, is offering a $500 reward for his return.

Common Pleas Court on Monday rendered a $5,000 judgment for the state of Ohio against the bonding company. However, the judgment will be forgiven, except for costs and expenses to the state and county, if the bonding company brings the defendant before the court on or before next Feb. 15.

Mrs. Frantum said Payne and another man tied her to a chair and ransacked her house. Nothing was taken.

approved by President Johnson soon after the landing. Lovell had been promoted after an earlier Gemini mission.

The space walk proved that man, with proper pacing and equipment, can do constructive jobs outside an orbiting vehicle. He will be questioned closely about his excursions in the debriefings.

Space officials had considerable praise for the Gemini program which successfully accomplished its goal as a bridge to the moon, proving out all techniques required to move into the Apollo program.

Gemini, which sent 20 men into space in 20 months, "has given us a great legacy to the space program," said Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center.

NASA officials conceded that the Apollo program has some problems, but that they expect to land men on the moon by 1970. The present timetable calls for two astronauts to step on the surface in 1968.

The first three-man earth orbit flight in the Apollo program had been scheduled this month, but slipped to January or February because of problems with the spacecraft life support and fuel tank systems.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ann Rockefeller Pierson, 32, daughter of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, has obtained a divorce in Juarez, Mexico, from the Rev. Robert L. Pierson on grounds of incompatibility of temperament.

Mrs. Pierson and her 40-year-old husband, who is rector of St. Barnabas Episcopal church in Newark, N.J., and had participated in civil rights marches in the South, had been separated since September 1965. They were married June 25, 1955.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Lyricist Alan Jay Lerner and his new "Fair Lady," Karen Gunderson, an assistant editor of Newsweek magazine, plan to live in New York.

Lerner, 48, who wrote the lyrics for many Broadway hits including "My Fair Lady" and "Camelot," and Miss Gunderson, 31, were married Tuesday in Santa Barbara, Calif.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Indianapolis Superior Court Judge Wilbur H. Grant says he will not approve divorces of parents during December.

"This is the period of the year that appeals especially to youngsters and I don't think it proper to allow anything that will be upsetting them at Christmas time," he said.

His top purchases were $10,750 for a 1920 Pierce-Arrow and $8,500 for a 1922 Rolls-Royce Pall Mall phaeton. Christensen said that although he paid more for the Pierce-Arrow, he considers the Rolls-Royce the centerpiece in his 11-car collection.

Arthur G. Rippey, retired Denver advertising man, said the auction of his 30 veteran and antique automobiles, several carriages, assorted headlamps and horns brought $164,675 from other collectors. All the cars are in running condition.

Jail Sentence Given In Shoplifting Case

An 18-year-old city girl was sentenced to 30 days in the Columbiana County Jail at Lisbon on charges of shoplifting during a hearing this morning in Municipal Court.

Nancy Green of 625 St. Clair Ave. pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a carton of cigarettes valued at $2.53 from the A & P market on Walnut St.

She was arrested Tuesday at 3:31 p. m. by Patrolman Sam Hayes. The charges were signed by John M. Coyne, store manager.

The girl told Judge Samuel Chertoff she became 18 in October. The court was informed she had been in the custody of juvenile authorities previously.

Miss Green told the judge she had been a county ward. The judge first ordered her placed in detention until he could check on her present status with the Juvenile Court. A short time later he reconvened court and issued the sentence.

McNamara Faces Decisions On Pilot Training Requests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara faces a series of key decisions in the next few weeks on Army, Navy, and Air Force requests for huge increases in pilot training next year.

The Army, now training 325 pilots a month, is seeking the biggest boost. It wants Defense Department approval to train 800 pilots monthly by June 1968. To do so, sources said, it would have to add a fourth training base.

The Navy, now building up to a monthly training output of 180 pilots, is seeking to expand its present facilities and train 218 pilots monthly next year.

The Air Force is in the tightest bind, training about 235 pilots and utilizing its eight training bases to capacity. It has asked for two more training bases.

With most budget requests for fiscal 1968 — which begins next July 1 — now in the decision-making process, Pentagon officials are reluctant to predict what McNamara will do. But some sources have indicated that most of the serices' requests will be approved.

The services all report that increased Viet Nam air needs have severely stralned their supply of combat pilots.

Each has taken steps to ease the shortage: The Army has ordered some pilots back to Viet Nam for second 12-month tours of duty; the Navy has involuntarily extended the duty of hundreds of fliers for one year; and the Air Force has sharply curtailed the number of officers eligible for study at any of its advanced training schools.

All of the services are meeting their combat requirements in Viet Nam.

Catholic Bishops Still Face Friday Meat Question

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whether to lift the Friday ban on eating of meat still faces Catholic bishops, who argued with the government Tuesday over birth control.

The meatless Friday question now is scheduled for discussion later this week at a conference of 219 bishops, archbishops and cardinals. It was supposed to come up Tuesday but was still under behind-the-scenes study.

Exchanges continued with the Office of Economic Opportunity over whether the governmen coerces welfare recipients to use birth control devices, which the Catholic Church forbids.

John W. Gardener, secretary of health, education and welfare, and OEO Director Sargent Shriver said family planning programs operate on a freedom of choice basis.

McNamara Faces Decisions On Pilot Training Requests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara faces a series of key decisions in the next few weeks on Army, Navy, and Air Force requests for huge increases in pilot training next year.

The Army, now training 325 pilots a month, is seeking the biggest boost. It wants Defense Department approval to train 800 pilots monthly by June 1968. To do so, sources said, it would have to add a fourth training base.

The Navy, now building up to a monthly training output of 180 pilots, is seeking to expand its present facilities and train 218 pilots monthly next year.

The Air Force is in the tightest bind, training about 235 pilots and utilizing its eight training bases to capacity. It has asked for two more training bases.

With most budget requests for fiscal 1968 — which begins next July 1 — now in the decision-making process, Pentagon officials are reluctant to predict what McNamara will do. But some sources have indicated that most of the serices' requests will be approved.

The services all report that increased Viet Nam air needs have severely strained their supply of combat pilots.

Each has taken steps to ease the shortage: The Army has ordered some pilots back to Viet Nam for second 12-month tours of duty; the Navy has involuntarily extended the duty of hundreds of fliers for one year; and the Air Force has sharply curtailed the number of officers eligible for study at any of its advanced training schools.

All of the services are meeting their combat requirements in Viet Nam.

Catholic Bishops Still Face Friday Meat Question

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whether to lift the Friday ban on eating of meat still faces Catholic bishops, who argued with the government Tuesday over birth control.

The meatless Friday question now is scheduled for discussion later this week at a conference of 219 bishops, archbishops and cardinals. It was supposed to come up Tuesday but was still under behind-the-scenes study.

Exchanges continued with the Office of Economic Opportunity over whether the governmen coerces welfare recipients to use birth control devices, which the Catholic Church forbids.

John W. Gardener, secretary of health, education and welfare, and OEO Director Sargent Shriver said family planning programs operate on a freedom of choice basis.

Pre-Yule Mail Strains Facilities

Postal Officials Struggle To Provide ZIP Code Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office, its facilities strained by a record flow of pre-Christmas mail, is struggling to answer millions of requests for ZIP code information — the result of last month's national ZIP Code Week promotion.

During the week of Oct. 10-15 the Post Office distributed about 95 million post cards — called ZIP-a-lists — to nearly every household in the nation.

Each card had 13 spaces for addresses. The Householder could list the addresses of those with whom he frequently corresponds and returns the cards to local post offices. There, clerks would fill in the ZIP code for each address and mail the cards back to the householder.

Although postal officials say they have no idea how many of these cards were returned to local post offices for completion, some postmasters are reporting dates of return from 5 to 60 per cent and higher. Cards still are coming in.

Assuming only a 20 per cent average, that's 19 million post cards. Since a postal spokesman estimates cards are averaging 10 addresses each, that means postal clerks are looking up about 190 million ZIP code numbers and filling in that many blanks.

The ZIP code work comes on the heels of a just-settled postal crisis in which at least one principal post office — in Chicago — was practically paralyzed with a giant backlog of undelivered mail.

Since then, the department has hired 150,000 extra Christmas workers one month early — at a cost of about $30 million — to help keep the mails flowing.

While the Post Office will not say how much it is costing to answer all the ZIP code requests — or to promote the Zip code, for that matter — officials are convinced that whatever the cost it's worth it.

The department expects to save about $60 million a year with the ZIP code. Much of this saving will result from the presorting of second and third class mail by the mailers. This becomes mandatory Jan. 1.

Boosters Meeting Set

SALINEVILLE — A meeting of the Southern Local Band Boosters will be held at the high school Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Wanda Pisarsky, president, said.

Rotarians Get Report On Southern Command

The functions of the U.S. Southern Command in the Canal Zone and a visit aboard the U.S.S. Lewis and Clark, a nuclear submarine, were outlined in a talk by Joseph M. Wells Jr. before the Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Wells toured the facilities of the command and the submarine recently as a civilian member of the Defense Orientation Conference Association (DOCA).

MEMBERS OF DOCA, which is supported by the Defense Department, pay their own expenses and make two to four trips each year to various military installations, Wells explained.

The speaker commented on tours of the Strategic Air Command headquarters at Omaha, Neb., the Wright - Patterson Air Force Base and its museum in Dayton and demonstrations of training maneuvers which he witnessed at Ft. Bragg, N. C., and Quantico, Va.

The Southern Command, Wells continued, is unique in military organizations because it "depends on civil action rather than weapons." Its most important function, he said, is to "promote good will in Central and South America and to stop the spread of Communism."

THE COMMAND is also charged with jungle and survival training of troops and fliers and with the defense of the Panama Canal, he added.

Wells then told of the demonstration cruise aboard the nuclear submarine, which, he said, customarily stays underwater continuously for 70 days when on a patrol with its 16 Polaris missiles.

Wells was introduced by Don Shay, program chairman.

Other visitors included Joe Wells Sr., father of the speaker; Joe Wells, the speaker's son; William Hocking, and Richard Emmerling.

Arthur V. Doak, president, announced that Burton Kerr is in City Hospital with a heart ailment.

New Cubmaster Will Serve Pack

Vincent Ferlaino will serve as cubmaster of Pack 60 of St. Ann's Catholic Church in East End, it was announced during the pack meeting Sunday night in the church hall.

In conjunction with the theme of the month, a space skit was presented by the boys under the direction of Mrs. Vallera.

Mrs. Donald Ramsey, den mother, said the Cubs will begin projects for Christmas to be displayed at the annual Christmas party and pack meeting.

Don Ramsey, scoutmaster of Troop 60, presented these awards: Vincent Ferlaino, bobcat pin; James Ferlaino, wolf badge with gold and silver arrow points and one-year pin; Dominic Frank, wolf badge with gold and two silver arrow points; Jesse Vallera, wolf badge with a gold and two silver arrow points and one year pin; Michael Yanni, wolf badge with gold arrow point, and Charles Maola, lion badge with gold arrow point. Donald Ramsey was presented his den chief cord as new den chief of Den 2.

Lunch was served by the mothers.

War Criminal Back In Germany For Trial

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Dr. Horst Schumann, a refugee in Ghana for seven years, returned today to stand trial for the wartime killing of 30,000 Jews and non-Germans.

Schumann took refuge in Ghana in 1959 and worked in a clinic there until the overthrow of President Kwame Nkrumah. He was arersted by the new Ghanian government and the West German request for his extradition was granted on Nov. 4.

Schumann, now 60, is accused of participating in the Nazi mercy killing program and with conducting fatal experiments in sterilization by X rays at the Auschwitz concentration camp.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp., said the 1966-67 finalists attend schools in 40 states and the District of Columbia.

More than 250 of them will win four - year college scholarships ranging in value from $1,000 to $6,000 ($250 to $1,500 per year), depending upon their need. Two hundred scholarships are underwritten by Ford Foundation grant funds and additional awards by sponsors. Winners will be announced next March.

More than 30,000 Negro students were considered in selecting the finalists.

Hammitt Speaks At Lisbon Dinner

LISBON — Jack Hammitt, treasurer of the Lisbon Rotary Club, spoke at the club's weekly dinner meeting Tuesday in the Daughters of America Hall.

He is superintendent at the Albco Foundry on W. Maple St. and formerly resided in Youngstown. He discussed the advantages of living in a small community.

President Jack Pozenel announced 49 reservations have been received for the club-sponsored bus trip to the General Motors plant at Lordstown Nov. 29. A buffet supper will be served from 6 to 6:45 at the Wick Hotel and the bus will leave afterward from the A & P parking lot across the street.

Future Of Nation's Sugar Beet Growers Seen Periled

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Spokesmen for the nation's sugar beet growers told a U. S. Department of Agriculture hearing Tuesday that a variety of factors, with rising costs at top, threaten their future.

They said a solution would be a guarantee by processors of a minimum raw beet price related to the average quoted price of raw cane sugar on the New York Market.

This, the spokesmen said, would in effect, guarantee improved prices to growers. Processors have made such guarantees in only a few cases, they added.

One person testifying for the growers Tuesday was northern Ohio grower Harold Batesman. Processors were to be heard today.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman called for hearings, the Omaha session being the first, to determine a fair and reasonable price for the 1967 sugar beet crop.

In Washington Tuesday, the Agriculture Department proposed setting 1967 sugar marketing quotas--including import shares -- at 10.2 million tons. This compares with 10.37 million tons which have been provided for the current year.

The department said sugar inventories have increased somewhat this year and that marketings would not have to be quite as large this year to meet domestic needs.

The proposed quotas for the domestic beet area would be unchanged from this year, 3,025,000 tons.

Course Offered County Residents

LISBON — Ohio State University will sponsor a career day in agriculture and home economics from 9:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. Dec. 3 on the campus at Columbus.

Young people attending will learn about the many career opportunities in "agribusiness" —farming and related fields.

Extension specialists say there are 23 million jobs in this phase of the nation's economy—7 million on the farm and 16 million off the farm.

There are approximately seven jobs for each home economics graduate, according to Ann Overturf, Columbiana County extension agent for home economics. She said many of these positions are going begging because young people are settling for jobs below their capacities and because not enough high school graduates are studying agriculture and home economics in the universities.

Full Extent Of Catastrophe Not Yet Clear

Flood Worst In Italy's History

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — In the early hours of Nov. 4 Italy — often called the fragile country because of its susceptibility to natural disaster — was hit by the worst flooding in its history.

Four major rivers — the Arno, the Adige, the Tagliamento and the Po — were pushed over their banks by heavy rains and, with phenomenally high tides from the Adriatic Sea and overflows from scores of streams, inundated a third of the nation.

The disaster swept and swirled through central and north Italy from the Dolomite Alps north of Venice to the southern edge of Tuscany south of Florence.

Florence and Venice, unique in their own ways and among the brightest jewels in the diadem of Italian cities, were badly damaged.

More than 100 persons were known to have perished; the final toll may reach 300.

One of the country's richest agricultural heartlands was devastated. Industries and commerce in the disaster area were stopped.

It was a disaster without precedent in modern Italy. Even now, nearly two weeks later, the full extent of the catastrophe is not yet clear.

The damage to the nation — and to the world — was almost incalculable.

On Nov. 9 the Italian government ordered an emergency appropriation of 47 billion lire—$75.2 million — to help the flood victims. The Cabinet set a 10 lire — 1.6 cents — a liter — quart — gasoline tax designed to bring in $500 million a year through December 1968.

This was a first measure only. For the great long-range task of rebuilding the economy of the stricken zones, it was expected that the government might have to impose new taxes on tobacco, alcoholic beverages and other consumer items and perhaps even float a national loan.

Giving his first parliamentary report on the disaster, Premier Aldo Moro declared Nov. 11 that the floods had wiped out the economic gains achieved since the recession. He called for a period of national austerity.

He said that it was still impossible accurately to assess the over-all cost of the floods. Estimates ran up to $2.5 billion, more than a fourth of the national budget.

Most industry in the stricken areas was knocked out of operation. Production of Venetian glass and lace was virtually destroyed. An estimated 80 per cent of the livestock in Tuscany, livestock center of Italy, was reported destroyed along with thousands of acres of Chianti vineyards that produce Italy's most famous exported wine.

About 6,000 shops in Florence and an equal number in Venice were wrecked. Hotels and restaurants were washed out. A severe drop in income from tourism was expected.

The art loss brought sadness to experts the world over. Some 1,300 masterpieces were damaged by water and mud in Florence, including nearly 900 works of the first rank.

Dr. Ugo Procacci, superintendent of Florentine Galleries, estimates it will take 20 years or more to repair the art that can be restored.

Redefine News Meaning, Editors' Convention Told

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — Newspapers must take up the task of increasing man's understanding of man, William B. Dickinson, president of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association, said today.

Dickinson, managing editor of the Philadelphia Bulletin, called on delegates to the editor's 33rd annual convention to redefine the meaning of news and to do a better job of covering the news that is transforming the world.

"We report the events—and we do it especially well if they are dramatic—and we overlook the causes and the consequences of those events," Dickinson said.

"We must somehow take a broader view, see events and people in a larger sense, paint our words and pictures on a wider canvas," he said.

This plan would include a reduction in the emphasis now placed on coverage of spot news.

"How much spot news is there on a given day that is really new and important to our readers? Could it not be compressed into a page or even less, leaving us far more space to devote to background, interpretation, to explanation?" Dickinson asked.

To handle the newspaper's changing role, Dickinson envisions "a new breed of journalist—the highly paid specialist.

"This new kind of newspaperman will deal with the advances in science, in medicine, in education, the planning problems of urban civilization and government, the problems of the poor and the rich, the white and the non-white, the sick and the well.

"As we move through this period of transition, as we begin to fit more comfortably into our even more responsible and demanding new role—the role of increasing man's understanding man—I predict that we will find ourselves less often the targets of petty and annoying criticism.

"This transition is not an easy one to make—but it must be made. These are difficult days for newspapers and for newspapermen. There are those who are counting us out. But our forward path, I think, is clearly marked."

Commute Death Sentence Of 4, Rsolution Asks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A resolution adopted Tuesday at the closing session of the Ohio Council of Churches asks Gov. James A. Rhodes to commute the death sentences of four men scheduled to die in the electric chair Dec. 2.

At the same time, the council at its 18th annual meeting urged in a resolution that the state abolish the death penalty.

The death penalty resolution called for commutation of the sentences of four men. The only hope for three now lies with Gov. James A. Rhodes, since the U. S. Supreme Court has turned down their appeals.

The case of a fourth man could go beyond the scheduled Dec. 2 date since he still can appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The three were convicted in the death of a Cincinnati area woman who died after a beating during a robbery.

Shreveport, La., was named after Henry Miller Shreve, who founded the city in 1835. Shreve, called the father of Mississippi River navigation, was an expert engineer, steamboatman and inventor.

Frost On Windshield Blamed In Collision

A city woman was cited for driving a car with an obstructed windshield following a minor accident Tuesday at 8:45 a. m. at the intersection of W. 4th and Jefferson Sts.

The mishap involved a 1963 sedan driven by Sam Scafide, 28, of 302 W. 4th and a 1960 sedan driven by Marion L. Pickens, 46, of 310 W. 4th. Scafide said he halted for a traffic light when the other car pulled along side and struck the left rear of his car.

The woman told Patrolman Jerry Adkins there was frost on the windshield of her car and she could not see the other car.

Superstition And Rain Make Villagers Flee

COLOMO, Ceylon (AP) — Superstition and rain drove more villagers from their homes today in central Ceylon's tea-growing Haputale district where landslides have killed at least 11 persons.

As the rain continued, many villagers quit the valleys below the tea plantations. They believed an evil grouping of the planets would occur today or Thursday and bring more disaster.

Two Forfeit Bonds

LISBON — Two drivers forfeited $15 appearance bonds Tuesday in mayor's court. They were Major Richard Collins of Lisbon general delivery, charged with driving left of center, and Fred Lester, 42, of Akron, charged with a traffic light violation.

Full Extent Of Catastrophe Not Yet Clear

Flood Worst In Italy's History

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — In the early hours of Nov. 4 Italy — often called the fragile country because of its susceptibility to natural disaster — was hit by the worst flooding in its history.

Four major rivers — the Arno, the Adige, the Tagliamento and the Po — were pushed over their banks by heavy rains and, with phenomenally high tides from the Adriatic Sea and overflows from scores of streams, inundated a third of the nation.

The disaster swept and swirled through central and north Italy from the Dolomite Alps north of Venice to the southern edge of Tuscany south of Florence.

Florence and Venice, unique in their own ways and among the brightest jewels in the diadem of Italian cities, were badly damaged.

More than 100 persons were known to have perished; the final toll may reach 300.

One of the country's richest agricultural heartlands was devastated. Industries and commerce in the disaster area were stopped.

It was a disaster without precedent in modern Italy. Even now, nearly two weeks later, the full extent of the catastrophe is not yet clear.

The damage to the nation — and to the world — was almost incalculable.

On Nov. 9 the Italian government ordered an emergency appropriation of 47 billion lire—$75.2 million — to help the flood victims. The Cabinet set a 10 lire — 1.6 cents — a liter — quart — gasoline tax designed to bring in $500 million a year through December 1968.

This was a first measure only. For the great long-range task of rebuilding the economy of the stricken zones, it was expected that the government might have to impose new taxes on tobacco, alcoholic beverages and other consumer items and perhaps even float a national loan.

Giving his first parliamentary report on the disaster, Premier Aldo Moro declared Nov. 11 that the floods had wiped out the economic gains achieved since the recession. He called for a period of national austerity.

He said that it was still impossible accurately to assess the over-all cost of the floods. Estimates ran up to $2.5 billion, more than a fourth of the national budget.

Most industry in the stricken areas was knocked out of operation. Production of Venetian glass and lace was virtually destroyed. An estimated 80 per cent of the livestock in Tuscany, livestock center of Italy, was reported destroyed along with thousands of acres of Chianti vineyards that produce Italy's most famous exported wine.

About 6,000 shops in Florence and an equal number in Venice were wrecked. Hotels and restaurants were washed out. A severe drop in income from tourism was expected.

The art loss brought sadness to experts the world over. Some 1,300 masterpieces were damaged by water and mud in Florence, including nearly 900 works of the first rank.

Dr. Ugo Procacci, superintendent of Florentine Galleries, estimates it will take 20 years or more to repair the art that can be restored.

It was announced that the Newell company will be host to a meeting of the United Hancock County Firefighters Association next Monday.

Add minced chives, sweet gherkins, pimiento and parsley to oil - and - vinegar dressing; serve over halves of hard-cooked eggs and lettuce for a luncheon salad.

Add slivers of syrup - preserved ginger to applesauce and serve with roast duck, goose, turkey or chicken. If only candied ginger is at hand, wash the pieces of ginger in hot water to remove the sugar coating and to soften before slivering.

Reuther Plans 'Hard-Nosed' Bargaining

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers is setting the machinery in motion unusually early for hard-nosed contract bargaining next year.

The 26-member UAW International Executive Board is holding a week-long session in Detroit, more than seven months before new contract bargaining begins with the automakers.

A board member said Tuesday, "three is freewheeling discussion on all phases of negotiations." Another source said the board also was "rehashing what happened in the last election and how we can live with the new Congress."

There has been tough talk regarding next year's bargaining from both union and company executives dating back to last August, when the UAW failed to gain contract reopening in a bid to win an immediate boost of at least 50 cents hourly for about 200,000 skilled workers.

Reuther told tradesmen then the union is prepared to strike any of the Big Three — General Motors, Ford or Chrysler — to win "substantial wage increases" upon expiration of current three-year pacts next Sept. 5.

President James M. Roche of General Motors, in effect, answered Reuther in a speech at Flint Nov. 1. He said collective bargaining is in the free enterprise tradition that recognizes "the right of a company to take a strike."

In what amounted to rebuttal, UAW Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey told a Flint UAW gathering this month:

"We in the UAW share Mr. Roche's hopes that we can reach settlement without a strike. But whether we have one or not depends on whether the companies are ready to settle the issues at the bargaining table."

Bacon - wrapped chicken-liver halves, water chestnuts or pimiento - stuffed olives may be placed on the flat rack of a very shallow roasting pan and then be baked in a hot oven for about 20 minutes or until hot through and the bacon is crisp.

Trains Crash In Brazil; 50 Believed Dead

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)— Two trains collided head on before dawn 18 miles northwest of Rio de Janeiro today and first unofficial reports said 50 persons were killed.

The casualty figure could not be confirmed immediately, but a local radio station reported 100 injured were treated at the Nilopolis emergency hospital near the scene of the wreck.

A spokesman for the Central do Brasil Railway said the collision occurred between the suburban towns of Nilopolis and Olinda. He said the trains were collecting commuting workers.

All the spokesman would say about the wreck was that it occurred at 5:30 a.m. and that it had knocked out the line's communications between Rio and the crash scene.

The newspaper Globo said its reporters on the scene had reported 50 persons dead and more than 100 injured.

Some radio stations reported from Nilopolis that unconfirmed police counts had between 20 and 40 dead.

There were reports that one of the trains had run through a stop signal but the railroad would neither confirm nor deny this.

Dahlia Group Shown Slides

Mrs. Clarence Green and Leo Lawrence screened slides of various flower shows during the meeting of the East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society Monday night at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex.

The slides included the Greater Pittsburgh dahlia show, the flower show at the Phipps Conservatory in Pittsburgh, which will end Nov. 27, the local Dahlia show, the midwest show at Cleveland, Beaver Creek State Park, local gardens and the tour of Kingwood Center in Mansfield.

A horticultural discussion on the importance of cleaning the gardens and preparing plants for winter was led by William Haugh, president, J. T. Eccleston and Lawrence.

Lunch was served 20 by Charles Glover, assisted by Clark McCoy.

The Board of Directors meeting announced previously for Nov. 26 has been changed to Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leughmyer of 601 15th St., Wellsville. The next regular meeting will be Dec. 12 at the annex.

Police Informed Of 2 'Enterings,' Vandalism Cases

An attempted breaking and entering and two vandalism cases were reported to city police Tuesday.

Dominic Volino of Apples Corners, owner of the Volino Brothers block works on State St., told police some one attempted to force open the rear door of the office some time between noon Monday and 1:30 p. m. yesterday.

Two blocks were removed and others disturbed in a new building being constructed on Pennsylvania Ave., police were told.

Sam Fricano of 259 W. 9th St., owner of Thorn's Valu-King being built at 1626 Pennsylvania Ave., told police yesterday some one climbed a 14-foot scaffold and removed two building blocks.

Others that had just been set in mortar were knocked out of line. The vandalism probably occurred Monday evening, because the blocks would have been set solid about two hours after they were laid, according to one of the construction workers.

Police also were informed that vandals broke out five windows in the Taft School at 202 Maplewood Ave. Monday night.

Industrial Arts Unit Will Meet On Nov. 30

The Jefferson County Industrial Arts Association will meet Nov. 30 at Buchanan Junior High School in Wintersville.

The session will get under way at 7:30 p.m.

The group met earlier this month at Stanton Local High School, with remodeling and refurbishing of the backdrop for the Industrial Arts convention booth discussed.

If you find the back of that duck or chicken you are roasting doesn't get brown enough to suit you, try turning the bird several times during the roasting process. Moderate or high temperatures (although they may result in a fat-spattered oven) also help to produce crisp skin on a roasted bird.

In what amounted to rebuttal, UAW Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey told a Flint UAW gathering this month:

"We in the UAW share Mr. Roche's hopes that we can reach settlement without a strike. But whether we have one or not depends on whether the companies are ready to settle the issues at the bargaining table."

Bacon - wrapped chicken-liver halves, water chestnuts or pimiento - stuffed olives may be placed on the flat rack of a very shallow roasting pan and then be baked in a hot oven for about 20 minutes or until hot through and the bacon is crisp.

Trains Crash In Brazil; 50 Believed Dead

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)— Two trains collided head on before dawn 18 miles northwest of Rio de Janeiro today and first unofficial reports said 50 persons were killed.

The casualty figure could not be confirmed immediately, but a local radio station reported 100 injured were treated at the Nilopolis emergency hospital near the scene of the wreck.

A spokesman for the Central do Brasil Railway said the collision occurred between the suburban towns of Nilopolis and Olinda. He said the trains were collecting commuting workers.

All the spokesman would say about the wreck was that it occurred at 5:30 a.m. and that it had knocked out the line's communications between Rio and the crash scene.

The newspaper Globo said its reporters on the scene had reported 50 persons dead and more than 100 injured.

Some radio stations reported from Nilopolis that unconfirmed police counts had between 20 and 40 dead.

There were reports that one of the trains had run through a stop signal but the railroad would neither confirm nor deny this.

Dahlia Group Shown Slides

Mrs. Clarence Green and Leo Lawrence screened slides of various flower shows during the meeting of the East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society Monday night at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex.

The slides included the Greater Pittsburgh dahlia show, the flower show at the Phipps Conservatory in Pittsburgh, which will end Nov. 27, the local Dahlia show, the midwest show at Cleveland, Beaver Creek State Park, local gardens and the tour of Kingwood Center in Mansfield.

A horticultural discussion on the importance of cleaning the gardens and preparing plants for winter was led by William Haugh, president, J. T. Eccleston and Lawrence.

Lunch was served 20 by Charles Glover, assisted by Clark McCoy.

The Board of Directors meeting announced previously for Nov. 26 has been changed to Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leughmyer of 601 15th St., Wellsville. The next regular meeting will be Dec. 12 at the annex.

Police Informed Of 2 'Enterings,' Vandalism Cases

An attempted breaking and entering and two vandalism cases were reported to city police Tuesday.

Dominic Volino of Apples Corners, owner of the Volino Brothers block works on State St., told police some one attempted to force open the rear door of the office some time between noon Monday and 1:30 p. m. yesterday.

Two blocks were removed and others disturbed in a new building being constructed on Pennsylvania Ave., police were told.

Sam Fricano of 259 W. 9th St., owner of Thorn's Valu-King being built at 1626 Pennsylvania Ave., told police yesterday some one climbed a 14-foot scaffold and removed two building blocks.

Others that had just been set in mortar were knocked out of line. The vandalism probably occurred Monday evening, because the blocks would have been set solid about two hours after they were laid, according to one of the construction workers.

Police also were informed that vandals broke out five windows in the Taft School at 202 Maplewood Ave. Monday night.

Industrial Arts Unit Will Meet On Nov. 30

The Jefferson County Industrial Arts Association will meet Nov. 30 at Buchanan Junior High School in Wintersville.

The session will get under way at 7:30 p.m.

The group met earlier this month at Stanton Local High School, with remodeling and refurbishing of the backdrop for the Industrial Arts convention booth discussed.

If you find the back of that duck or chicken you are roasting doesn't get brown enough to suit you, try turning the bird several times during the roasting process. Moderate or high temperatures (although they may result in a fat-spattered oven) also help to produce crisp skin on a roasted bird.

From GOP Governors

Moderate Republicans May Face Control Task

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moderate Republicans may encounter stiff opposition in their efforts to get GOP governors to spearhead a move to wrest party control from the conservatives.

GOP Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, who welcomes the label of liberal, points to a Republican governors' meeting in Colorado Springs, Colo., Dec. 9-10 as a likely forum for the moderates to get together behind a single candidate for the 1968 party presidential nomination.

"We can't afford to let happen in 1968 what happened in 1964," Hatfield said at a news conference Tuesday.

The governor, elected to the Senate last week, made it clear he was alluding to the moderates' frustrations of two years ago. At that time New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's entry into presidential primaries kept other progressive candidates out of the race until it was too late to defeat conservative Barry Goldwater for the presidential nomination.

But if the moderates expect to duplicate the 1952 feat of former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in rallying nearly all of the Republican state executives behind a single candidate — in that case, Dwight D. Eisenhower — they may run into some stiff resistance.

The 25 Republican governors, including 14 first-termers elected Nov. 8, appear to be nearly equally divided between the moderate and conservative camps.

Counting Hatfield, who is stepping from one office to another, and three defeated for reelection, the moderates could muster a majority at any session whre all attended. But they would seem to have little hope of getting anything like unanimity behind them in a drive to loosen conservative control of the party's convention delegate choosing machinery.

Hatfield said that to encourage togetherness among the moderates, speculative candidates ought to make it "crystal clear" that they are not in the running.

He said he isn't, and added that he accepts at face value statements of Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan of California, Charles H. Percy, elected to the Senate in Illinois, and Rockefeller that they will not be contenders.

The Oregon governor said Gov. George Romney, who won an impressive re-election victory in Michigan, and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, chief national Republican campaigner this year, look to him like the two top contenders.

Strike Not Called Immediately

Talks Suspended In TV, Radio And Union Dispute

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators for the broadcasting networks and two unions representing 36,000 performers, newsmen and announcers broke off talks early today after a 16-hour session that extended beyond a Tuesday midnight deadline for a threatened strike. The strike was not called immediately.

Kenneth Groot, executive secretary of the New York local of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists — AFTRA, said after the talks were suspended at 4:15 a.m. that no further meetings had been scheduled.

He said a group of AFTRA executives were meeting to decide whether to strike.

Groot declined to say whether a strike was likely or when it might be called.

There was no immediate word on the progress of the talks.

The unions are seeking higher fees and minimum salaries for their members.

Industry negotiators declined comment.

Network sources in New York indicated that a walkout by the AFTRA and the Screen Actors Guild would curtail live programming. They said, however, that filmed and taped shows would allow the networks to stay on the air indefinitely.

One network spokesman said, "The major casualty would be the soap operas."

Network programs such as the "Tonight" show and the Ed Sullivan show would have to use taped rebroadcasts of earlier programs.

A strike also would mean that the networks' major evening newscasts would go on the air without such familiar names as Walter Cronkite, Chet Huntley and David Brinkley, and Peter Jennings. Network executives would take over the news programs.

AFTRA has a membership of 17,500 and represents almost everyone who appears before a microphone and all performers on live or taped television shows or commercials.

The Screen Actors Guild with 18,500 members, is negotiating for all performers on filmed television commercials.

The networks involved are the Columbia Broadcasting System, the National Broadcasting Co., and the American Broadcasting Co., radio-TV networks, and the Mutual Broadcasting System, a radio network.

Both the AFL-CIO unions are seeking a three-year contract with an increase from $105 to $130 in the daily rate paid to performers on television commercials.

George Gund, 78, Cleveland Bank Executive, Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — George Gund, top executive of Ohio's largest bank who preferred small, inexpensive cars and once wore a widely discussed overcoat with patches, died Tuesday in Cleveland Clinic Hospital.

Gund, 78, was board chairman of Cleveland Trust Co. He had been suffering from leukemia and entered the clinic Nov. 3.

His personal fortune has been estimated up to $600 million.

A leader in Cleveland's civic and cultural life, Gund relished a reputation for frugality and made his clothing "do" for years, including a patched overcoat.

A graduate of suburban University School (1903) and Harvard Business School in 1909, Gund became president of Cleveland Trust in 1941 and board chairman in 1962. Under his guidance, Cleveland Trust deposits grew from $500 million to $1.7 billion and assets recently exceeded $2 billion.

Funeral services for Gund, who is survived by six children, will be held Thursday at Trinity Cathedral. Burial will be private.

Man Granted Divorce From Confined Wife

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert W. Colby was granted a divorce Tuesday from his wife, Marian, 41, who is confined to Lima State Hospital in the August 1965 slaying of a neighbor boy.

Colby gained the divorce on grounds of gross neglect of duty. No mention of the shooting of John Cremer Young Jr., 8, was made in his petition. Mrs. Colby had been charged with first - degree murder in the boy's death but was found innocent by reason of insanity.

Johnson's Name Pops Up In 'Bugged' Baker Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The names of Lyndon B. Johnson and several top political figures pop up in transcripts released by the government of "bugged" conversations involving Bobby Baker.

But the government says the role of Baker, onetime Senate Democratic secretary, in the conversations was only coincidence and that the eavesdropping had nothing to do with his indictment for tax evasion, grand larceny and fraud.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in an affidavit presented to federal court Tuesday that the 34-page transcript covered all the Baker conversations on which the FBI eavesdropped. But Baker said there must have been more.

The 11 conversations in the transcript were monitored from three points: Miami, Fla.; Las Vegas, Nev., and the Washington hotel room of Fred B. Black Jr., a former Baker business associate.

The calls from Black's suite were recorded between February and April 1963. Baker said he might have made 500 calls from Black's suite during that period.

He said some conversations there involved Wayne Bromley, a key figure in Baker's indictment for evading $23,000 in federal income taxes and obtaining $100,000 by fraud. But the government insisted it had no other records on Baker conversations.

One conversation was between Baker and Dean McGee of the Kerr-McGee Oil Co. in Oklahoma City following the death of Sen. Robert Kerr, D-Okla.

"Well, Lyndon (then vice president) told me the other day," Baker is quoted in the transcript, "that (Rep.) Carl Albert (D-Okla.) told him they did not think Bob (Kerr) Jr. could win that seat.

"They want you (McGee) to take it. I told them that was out."

Shortage Of Ammunition Seen For Hunters, Police

By EARL QUEBEDEAUX
Cleveland Plain Dealer Writer

CLEVELAND (AP)—A shortage of "civilian" ammunition—affecting hunters, police departments, sportsmen, shooting clubs and others—has been found in an area and national survey.

Wholesalers, retailers and individual buyers blame the shortage on manufacturers' contracts with the U.S. Government for military use in Viet Nam.

In turn, the manufacturers say the wholesalers, retailers and users unduly fear a possible shortage and are "scare-buying" and "stockpiling" — causing a shortage.

The Winchester - Western Division of Olin-Mathieson Chemical Corp., East Alton, Ill., was the only one of the three major manufacturers contacted that frankly blamed the Viet Nam war for the civilian ammunition shortage.

Clifford Dillman, a Winchester executive said:

"There is a shortage of shells, and in our case its due to government orders for Viet Nam. It's question of having people available to do the job—there's no shortage of materials—and we hope the situation will be helped with our new plant in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Federal Cartridge Co., Anoka, Minn. and Remington Arms Co., Bridgeport, Conn., denied that the war is impeding their commercial ammunition production.

"They're buying twice as much because of their own stockpiling along with the fact that hunters and others themselves are making runs on the retailers."

"I disargee with Remington and Federal," said A. J. Rosalina, director of purchases for the George Worthington Co., a distributor in Cleveland.

"We're distributors for a 10-state area and we're short on all shotgun shells-all shot sizes—as well as being short of some of the popular rifle cartridges."

Talks Continue In Westinghouse Work Stoppage

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Negotiators at Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants scattered across the country resume meetings today in an effort to bring about 7,000 striking International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) members back to work.

Work stoppages have occurred at various plants since Oct. 31 when the IBEW national contract and some local contracts expired.

The union represents about 14,000 employes at 45 plants. Only 800 at 22 repair shops were covered by a national contract agreement reached in Washington Friday.

Westinghouse said agreements similar to the national pact have been submitted to local unions but various issues are holding up settlements.

1 More Killed In Ohio Traffic

By The Associated Press

One of Ohio's latest traffic victims, injured in an accident Tuesday night, died in a hospital early Wednesday.

The victims:

Richard E. Beck, 36, Canton.

Donald C. Gray, 42, Kent.

Samuel Hoffer, 79, Fairlawn village, Akron suburb.

E. J. Holt, 38, Franklin.

From GOP Governors

Moderate Republicans May Face Control Task

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moderate Republicans may encounter stiff opposition in their efforts to get GOP governors to spearhead a move to wrest party control from the conservatives.

GOP Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, who welcomes the label of liberal, points to a Republican governors' meeting in Colorado Springs, Colo., Dec. 9-10 as a likely forum for the moderates to get together behind a single candidate for the 1968 party presidential nomination.

"We can't afford to let happen in 1968 what happened in 1964," Hatfield said at a news conference Tuesday.

The governor, elected to the Senate last week, made it clear he was alluding to the moderates' frustrations of two years ago. At that time New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's entry into presidential primaries kept other progressive candidates out of the race until it was too late to defeat conservative Barry Goldwater for the presidential nomination.

But if the moderates expect to duplicate the 1952 feat of former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in rallying nearly all of the Republican state executives behind a single candidate — in that case, Dwight D. Eisenhower — they may run into some stiff resistance.

The 25 Republican governors, including 14 first-termers elected Nov. 8, appear to be nearly equally divided between the moderate and conservative camps.

Counting Hatfield, who is stepping from one office to another, and three defeated for reelection, the moderates could muster a majority at any session whre all attended. But they would seem to have little hope of getting anything like unanimity behind them in a drive to loosen conservative control of the party's convention delegate choosing machinery.

Hatfield said that to encourage togetherness among the moderates, speculative candidates ought to make it "crystal clear" that they are not in the running.

He said he isn't, and added that he accepts at face value statements of Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan of California, Charles H. Percy, elected to the Senate in Illinois, and Rockefeller that they will not be contenders.

The Oregon governor said Gov. George Romney, who won an impressive re-election victory in Michigan, and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, chief national Republican campaigner this year, look to him like the two top contenders.

Strike Not Called Immediately

Talks Suspended In TV, Radio And Union Dispute

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators for the broadcasting networks and two unions representing 36,000 performers, newsmen and announcers broke off talks early today after a 16-hour session that extended beyond a Tuesday midnight deadline for a threatened strike. The strike was not called immediately.

Kenneth Groot, executive secretary of the New York local of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists — AFTRA, said after the talks were suspended at 4:15 a.m. that no further meetings had been scheduled.

He said a group of AFTRA executives were meeting to decide whether to strike.

Groot declined to say whether a strike was likely or when it might be called.

There was no immediate word on the progress of the talks.

The unions are seeking higher fees and minimum salaries for their members.

Industry negotiators declined comment.

Network sources in New York indicated that a walkout by the AFTRA and the Screen Actors Guild would curtail live programming. They said, however, that filmed and taped shows would allow the networks to stay on the air indefinitely.

One network spokesman said, "The major casualty would be the soap operas."

Network programs such as the "Tonight" show and the Ed Sullivan show would have to use taped rebroadcasts of earlier programs.

A strike also would mean that the networks' major evening newscasts would go on the air without such familiar names as Walter Cronkite, Chet Huntley and David Brinkley and Peter Jennings. Network executives would take over the news programs.

AFTRA has a membership of 17,500 and represents almost everyone who appears before a microphone and all performers on live or taped television shows or commercials.

The Screen Actors Guild with 12,500 members, is negotiating for all performers on filmed television commercials.

The networks involved are the Columbia Broadcasting System, the National Broadcasting Co., and the American Broadcasting Co., radio-TV networks, and the Mutual Broadcasting System, a radio network.

Both the AFL-CIO unions are seeking a three-year contract with an increase from $105 to $130 in the daily rate paid to performers on television commercials.

George Gund, 78, Cleveland Bank Executive, Dies

Gund, 78, was board chairman of Cleveland Trust Co. He had been suffering from leukemia and entered the clinic Nov. 3.

His personal fortune has been estimated up to $600 million.

A leader in Cleveland's civic and cultural life, Gund relished a reputation for frugality and made his clothing "do" for years, including a patched overcoat.

A graduate of suburban University School (1905) and Harvard Business School in 1909, Gund became president of Cleveland Trust in 1941 and board chairman in 1962. Under his guidance, Cleveland Trust deposits grew from $500 million to $1.7 billion and assets recently exceeded $2 billion.

Funeral services for Gund, who is survived by six children, will be held Thursday at Trinity Cathedral. Burial will be private.

Man Granted Divorce From Confined Wife

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert W. Colby was granted a divorce Tuesday from his wife, Marian, 41, who is confined to Lima State Hospital in the August 1965 slaying of a neighbor boy.

Colby gained the divorce on grounds of gross neglect of duty. No mention of the shooting of John Cremer Young Jr., 8, was made in his petition. Mrs. Colby had been charged with first-degree murder in the boy's death but was found innocent by reason of insanity.

Ohio Snowstorm Killed Some 250,000 Turkeys

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— An out-of-seaon blizzard that buried much of Ohio two weeks ago played a dirty, 1.5 million trick on Ohio's growing turkey industry—and at the worst possible time of year.

The storm claimed an estimated 250,000 western Ohio turkeys that would have been bound now for Thanksgiving and Christmas tables.

It's doubtful that anyone will have to do without a holiday turkey because of the loss, but it sent many Ohio processors and retailers scampering to other states to fill their needs—at their peak when the storm hit.

The additional trouble and expense involved in bringing in the out-of-state turkeys, and the disruption of processing plant schedules because of the storm, may cause a slight increase in prices this year. But "not more than a ripple on the market," according to Bruce Davisson, executive secretary of the Ohio Poultry Association.

Purchasers of fresh turkeys might have to pay a few cents more a pound this year, said Davisson, but frozen turkeys should not be up much. It was noted that processors have been stockpiling these for some time.

Much more than the public, the industry has been hurt.

One farmer lost 10,000 birds at around $5 a head. Another lost 5,000 Big Tom turkeys at a loss of more than $6 each.

Davisson said that about 75 per cent of Ohio's annual production of 4 million turkeys comes from the area hit by the storm, which caught everyone off guard.

No precise distinction can be made between a tree and a shrub. Shrubs are smaller than trees and usually have several stems which support the twigs and branches, while trees commonly have only one trunk.

Ohio Farm Bureau's Vote To Aim At Market Picketing

By AL GOLDBERG
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) Delegates to the Ohio Farm Bureau federation's annual meeting will vote this week on a resolution condemning picketing of supermarkets by housewives and other organized efforts to drive food prices down.

And evidence indicates it could spark the most lively discussion of the three-day meeting which got under way today.

"Pickets could drive more farmers out of operation," said D.R. Stanfield, executive vice president of the federation. "And enough of them are leaving for other reasons, without this.

"If prices go down," Stanfield went on, "the farmer makes less. Some could give up. And somebody has to produce this food."

The proposed resolution says that "food price rises have long lagged behind other price rises, and only in recent months have they even caught up to the general price level."

Stanfield produced figures he said show that there actually is very little profit for the food retailers--"only 1.3 cents on a dollar." The figure jumps to 2.7 cents per dollar profit for processors, "still not a high figure," he said.

Cutting out trading stamps, games of chance and contests would reduce prices only slightly, as would reducing services, the resolution reads, adding, "however, we doubt that consumers really want reduced service."

Also seen as a hot issue in the 48th annual meeting is a Farm Bureau proposal to establish a state income tax due to "overloaded real and personal property" taxes.

Broadening the base of the sales tax is called for in the resolution as another means of providing revenues for government services.

A resolution calling for the General Assembly to place Ohio on year-round Eastern Standard Time also will come up for approval--and is expected to receive little opposition in the ancient battle between farm and city people over Daylight Savings Time.

The resolutions will be presented to delegates today and will be voted on Friday.

Something called trichlorosilanated tallow may someday be used to waterproof the exterior concrete and masonry portions of your house.

Scientists have found that tallow, an animal fat derivative, is a superior water - proofing compound when mixed with the chemical trichlorosilane.

Since it is expected to take a considerable period of time — perhaps years — to manufacture this product at a reasonable cost, the more conventional silicone waterproofing products will have to be used in the meantime.

These silicone coatings, when applied liberally as per label instructions, do an effective job of repelling water when it is desired to keep the color of the concrete or masonry unchanged.

A MISTAKE sometimes made, however, is to apply a colorless waterproofing liquid to a masonry wall in the expectation that it will prevent water from getting inside the house through damaged mortar joints. It won't.

It is intended to act as a water repellant after all defects in the wall have been repaired. Thus if you wish to use such a coating, you must first remortar all poor joints and fill any other openings.

If you want to change the color of a concrete or masonry surface, you have a choice of several kinds of paint which are not affected by the alkali in cement.

These include an exterior latex paint formulated especially for masonry, solvent - thinned resins such as are used on concrete pools: portland cements and what are called reinforced masonry paints.

If the previous coating is in excellent condition, with no signs of peeling or other visible defects, an exception can be made for a good quality oil paint.

AS WITH waterproofing compounds, paints should be applied only after all cracks and damaged joints have been repaired.

If a portland cement paint is used, apply it only to a damp surface and don't apply it at all if any other type of paint already is on the wall. Exterior latex can be put on either a wet or dry surface. Solvent - thinned resins should be applied to a dry surface.

Concrete, cinder and slag blocks require special treatment. Concrete blocks require a prime coat to fill their porous surfaces. The solven - thinned rubber based paints are recommended for cinder and slag blocks, which contain acid as well as alkali.

Remember that if there are any metal objects imbedded in the concrete or masonry — which is often the case — these pieces of metal must be primed with an anti corrosive metal primer.

Step-Up Seen Soon In Steel

CLEVELAND (AP)—Despite the current slowdown, steel producers can expect a stepup in demand and production, perhaps as early as December, Steel Magazine said today.

"High level consumption limits the extent to which steel inventories can be trimmed," the magazine said. "November and December usage rates are expected to equal that in October. And the pace can be expected to continue into the new year," it added.

This projection has prompted one of the leading steel companies to predict a record ingot production of 141 million tons in 1967, the magazine said. The estimated production for 1966 is 135 million tons, 3.5 million tons more than last year's record production, Steel said.

Despite another slight drop in ingot production last week (2.54 million tons compared with 2.546 million the week before), the magazine said more steel has been made this year to date than in the comparable part of any other year. As of Nov. 12, this year's output was 117.1 million tons compared with the record 116.2 million a year ago, Steel said.

The metalworking weekly reported steel buying is mixed. Some mills have strong bookings while others have experienced declines. "At the moment, over-all demand for steel is down," the magazine said. "Orders being placed now are mainly for December delivery."

Steel said a large producer expects efforts to reduce year-end tax liabilities in many states will cut user stocks of steel by at least 500,000 tons this quarter, in addition to inventory reductions already being made under the tight money squeeze.

The auto industry, the largest steel user, remains conservative in its buying, Steel said. The magazine attributed this to current automobile sales, which are "good, but not exceptionally good." The magazine predicted an upswing in steel usage for defense needs.

In Ohio, steel production at Youngstown held steady at 74 per cent of the 1960 capacity, ingot production at Cincinnati slipped one-half point to 98.5 per cent of 1960 capacity and production was up slightly in the Cleveland area, the magazine said.

Woman Hurt As Car Flips

Anna Louise Jenkins, 28, of Lisbon R. D. 4 was headed east in a 1962 coach when the right rear tire blew out about a mile west of Lisbon at 11:40.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the car went out of control, into a ditch and turned over, landing on its wheels. There was heavy damage to the top and right side.

George VanFossen, 66, of Leetonia R.D. 1 was cited after his car hit the rear of another on Route 45 at the intersection with Route 344.

He was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Divorcee Questioned

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Robert Kopp, 35, Newark, was shot to death early today, and a 34-year-old Newark divorcee and mother of two children was being held for questioning in the case, police reported.

Mrs. Evans was taken into custody for questioning. Police and the county prosecutor were expected to consult later in the day concerning filing of charges in the case.

Matter Of Time Seen For Right Moon Orbit

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — "It's just a matter of time now to find out if it's in the proper orbit," said one of the scientists controlling Lunar Orbiter 2's journey to photograph potential astronaut landing sites on the moon from as close as 28 miles.

Space agency scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory said all went well during a 17½-second steering rocket firing Tuesday which lowered the spacecraft's orbit to 125 miles above the earth.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Despite the current slowdown, steel producers can expect a stepup in demand and production, perhaps as early as December, Steel Magazine said today.

"High level consumption limits the extent to which steel inventories can be trimmed," the magazine said. "November and December usage rates are expected to equal that in October. And the pace can be expected to continue into the new year," it added.

This projection has prompted one of the leading steel companies to predict a record ingot production of 141 million tons in 1967, the magazine said. The estimated production for 1966 is 135 million tons, 3.5 million tons more than last year's record production, Steel said.

Despite another slight drop in ingot production last week (2.54 million tons compared with 2.546 million the week before), the magazine said more steel has been made this year to date than in the comparable part of any other year. As of Nov. 12, this year's output was 117.1 million tons compared with the record 116.2 million a year ago, Steel said.

The auto industry, the largest steel user, remains conservative in its buying, Steel said. The magazine attributed this to current automobile sales, which are "good, but not exceptionally good." The magazine predicted an upswing in steel usage for defense needs.

In Ohio, steel production at Youngstown held steady at 74 per cent of the 1960 capacity, ingot production at Cincinnati slipped one-half point to 98.5 per cent of 1960 capacity and production was up slightly in the Cleveland area, the magazine said.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Your reply to D. J. was ridiculous. It was also dangerous. That column is sure to be clipped and carried in the wallet of every alley cat in the country.

You really gave them the green light when you said, "Unless a boy uses chloroform or a lead pipe the girl is responsible for whatever happens to her."

For 20 years I have been a house mother in a home for unwed mothers. These girls are victims of a weapon far more deadly than chloroform or a lead pipe. They were done in by sweet words of love and empty promises.

It's high time parents taught their sons that girls are not playthings to be used for pleasure, then cast aside if something goes wrong. Every young man should be taught that a decent boy is responsible for his girl.

When your column was passed around in the home today several of the expectant mothers became depressed because you placed all the blame on them — MT. CARMEL, PA., HOUSE MOTHER.

Dear House Mother: Thank you for expressing your point of view.

You are right when you say a decent boy should be responsible for his girl. But not all boys are decent. Moreover, out-of-wedlock pregnancies involve more than decency. There are such factors as permissive parents, sexy movies, liquor, unchaperoned parties, midnight beach blasts and going steady.

Most 16-year-old boys are not thinking about love and marriage. They are thinking about sex and they are out looking.

The girl is indeed responsible for whatever happens to her because, unfortunately, many boys will take whatever they can talk a girl into. She'd better know it and conduct herself accordingly.

Artist Anonymous

Dear Ann: Our 9-year-old daughter entered a coloring contest — not once but several times. She gave the names and addresses of five friends in an effort to win at least one of the prizes. She signed her cousin Wendy's name to one of the pictures and it won first place. The prize was $100 and a TV appearance.

When Wendy's mother called to tell us about the mysterious windfall, I suspected what had happened and I confronted Debbie. She admitted signing Wendy's name. I told her the whole thing was dishonest, that she could not accept the money and that she certainly could not appear on TV as somebody else.

Debbie has been eating off the mantel for two days. I have let her know she did a terrible thing. Is she really wrong to be mad about her cousin taking the prize money? I've made it clear to Debbie that she can't have it, and I want it to go to charity. What do you think? — HOLLYWOOD.

Dear Hollywood: Debbie should tell the officials she faked the signature and ask them to donate the check to charity. They might solve the problem for you by canceling payment on the check.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: For the mother-to-be who is busily preparing for her "bundle from heaven":

Use inexpensive, square apothecary jars in the three smallest sizes for cotton swabs, pins, etc.

Since one never knows whether the baby will be a boy or a girl, you can tie pretty satin ribbon in assorted baby colors around the tops of the jars.

Mine fit perfectly in a pretty silver bread tray which I rarely use, and it adds to the attractiveness of my baby's room.

GAIL SHELFER.

Gail, you are my kind of gal!

Apothecary jars will serve the purpose just as well as a more expensive baby set and will be attractive, too.

That money you save will buy some other little "something" you'd like for the new baby. (Besides, someone might be planning to give you one of the other sets!)

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I iron head scarves, I hang them on a wire clothes hanger which has a cardboard across the bottom.

This prevents the fold marks the scarves get when put in a drawer and are handy in the closet near your jackets and coats.

DEAR HELOISE: Use snap-together beads to tie back your curtains. I take a piece of dental floss (my curtains are white, so the floss is invisible but any matching color thread would do), loop it through the beads and tie the floss to a small tack in the woodwork.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: To make some cute miniature wooden barrels that can be used for bookends or on knick-knack shelves, take apart the wooden, square-type clothes pins and stand them evenly grooved around a small, empty baby food can.

They look like miniature, real barrels.

JOAN.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I make a puree of onions and green peppers which I freeze in ice cube trays. After they are frozen, I pack them in plastic bags in the freezer.

MARY LOU JONES.

DEAR HELOISE: I found another use for plastic mesh bags that onions come in:

When I wash my sponges, I put them in one of these bags, and hang it on the line so the sponges can dry and air.

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know that those bottled or low-calorie salad dressings are delicious on cooked vegetables, too?

Dieters might want to try using this instead of butter or creamy sauces.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I iron head scarves, I hang them on a wire clothes hanger which has a cardboard across the bottom.

This prevents the fold marks the scarves get when put in a drawer and are handy in the closet near your jackets and coats.

DEAR HELOISE: Use snap-together beads to tie back your curtains. I take a piece of dental floss (my curtains are white, so the floss is invisible but any matching color thread would do), loop it through the beads and tie the floss to a small tack in the woodwork.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: To make some cute miniature wooden barrels that can be used for bookends or on knick-knack shelves, take apart the wooden, square-type clothes pins and stand them evenly grooved around a small, empty baby food can.

Hold them to can with two thin rubber bands, then paint them with dark varnish.

They look like miniature, real barrels.

JOAN.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I make a puree of onions and green peppers which I freeze in ice cube trays. After they are frozen, I pack them in plastic bags in the freezer.

I use them in meat loafs, spaghetti, meat sauces, soups, etc. A few on top of a roast while it is baking adds a marvelous flavor.

MARY LOU JONES.

DEAR HELOISE: I found another use for plastic mesh bags that onions come in:

When I wash my sponges, I put them in one of these bags, and hang it on the line so the sponges can dry and air.

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know that those bottled or low-calorie salad dressings are delicious on cooked vegetables, too?

Dieters might want to try using this instead of butter or creamy sauces.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Quick Comeback For Conway

Hal Humphrey

"Our first show opens on Friday the 13th," says Tim. "That was the same day I bought my Edsel. We're also going in against the 'Friday Night Movie' and the second half of 'Man From U.N.C.L.E.' where Berle was.

"OH WELL, if we get to stay on as long as he did, it will take us through the rainy season here and at least the swimming pools will be open then. After that, we can do the show door-to-door."

To give you an idea now fast things are moving in the TV world these days, Tim was out on a personal appearance tour plugging the coming of the "Rango" series for the 1967-68 season. Suddenly he got a call from ABC telling him to get back to Hollywood quick because "you're going into our second season."

"I think I only go to two cities with my 'he's coming' tour and had three more 'he's coming' speeches when I got this 'hurry up, you're on next' call," recalls Tim, still dazed.

HE THOUGHT it was kind of strange for ABC to send him out on the road this early to plug a new series for the fall of '67, but now Tim realizes the network is beginning to operate on a continuous rotation policy.

When your show isn't actually on the air during one of ABC's first, second, third or fourth seasons they have you touring the country to acquaint your TV constituents with your next series.

"I was saying goodbye to ABC and 'McHale's Navy,' but as I went out the door somebody said hello and offered me 17 weeks with just about whatever new show I would pick," recounts Tim.

Then Aaron Spelling and Danny Thomas told my agents about 'Rango,' which I guess you'd call a comedy Western about a Texas Ranger. It's not as wild as 'McHale's Navy.' I mean we're not wiping whipped cream off our face every time we come through the door.

"WELL, ANYWAY, I didn't think I ought to take the first thing that came along, so I waited and read about 10 other scripts for series. But all of them started out, 'He's a man on the moon with a pet arrdvark,' and then I was to fly in on a wire. I decided to do 'Rango.'

"Listen, there's really nothing new, and I've been around a long time. I remember Margaret O'Brien."

With Tim in his "Rango" role are Norman Alden who plays the head Ranger and Guy Marks as a dumb Indian.

Tim admits that "Rango" is the "Get Smart" genre but, as he said, there's really nothing new. It's the way things are done that counts, he adds, and Tim has plenty of fans who like the way he does them.

"I'm LOOSE about this," says Tim. "My attitude is, 'Well, that's as funny as I get, folks.' I could go back to Cleveland tomorrow and figure what happened out here was all very nice, but now it's over.

"I don't mean I'm telling the audience to go to hell, but what's the use of making a big thing about all this?

"Hey, did you know Mary Anne and I had our fourth child about six weeks ago? He's Jamie Dalton. Dalton's my wife's name, so all the kids are stuck with that. We had a child for every year 'McHale's Navy' was on. Thank goodness it was finally canceled."

"I SUGGESTED we just turn these two over to ABC and let it keep running them over the over. Maybe nobody'd know the different. The laugh track is the same, too, no matter if the shows are funny or not."

I asked Tim if this didn't make him the first TV star to finish up one series ("McHale's Navy") and start another at the half-year mark.

Exercise For Slimming In Spots

Toning exercises give the illusion of lost poundage, for you measure inches slimmer. Many of you ask, can exercise actually reduce in spots? Let's reason it through.

Ida Jean Kain

With exercise, the fat cells are broken down and made more readily available for use. Circulation is stimulated in that area, and these fat cells get into the blood stream. Then the freed fuel will be ready to be used for energy — provided your daily calories are below your normal requirements. That's the only way stored fat can be called into action. So spot exercise would appear to be reducing in spots.

—:—

ACTUALLY, it's not quite that direct, for nature uses calories generally, not from certain areas. That is, calorie burning is an all-over proposition, not a localized one. As you exercise, calories are expended. But since nature does not draw the needed calories just from the spot you're working on, exercise cannot honestly be called spot reducing.

Ah, but exercise is beautiful streamlining. The slimming effect is brought about through increases muscle tone. Suppose you are taking a leg swinging routine to slim bulky hips, or stretching to whittle the waist.

Through exercise, live tone is restored to flabby muscles. Think of tone as elasticity and of flabby muscles as lacking in elasticity. Then it's easy to reason that flabby muscles bulk out and spread the figure, while toned muscles hug the silhouette and streamline.

An exercise enthusiast has sent in a stretch-bend which she claims is excellent for slimming the middle measurement. Here it is:

Action: As you stretch up, pushing hand higher, bend, touching hip to side of door jamb. Hold. Repeat five times. Change sides and stretch and bend along the left side. Keep the movement smooth.

Position: Lying on left side, head pillowed on left arm, right arm out on floor in front of chest to serve as a brace, both legs straight down.

Action: Get a firm grip on middle muscles. Bend right knee to chest, then shoot leg straight down and swing leg back as far as possible, knee straight. Hold. Bring knee vigorously toward chest again and repeat a half dozen times. Change sides and put left leg into action.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Quick Comeback For Conway

Hal Humphrey

"Our first show opens on Friday the 13th," says Tim. "That was the same day I bought my Edsel. We're also going in against the 'Friday Night Movie' and the second half of 'Man From U.N.C.L.E.' where Berle was.

"OH WELL, if we get to stay on as long as he did, it will take us through the rainy season here and at least the swimming pools will be open then. After that, we can do the show door-to-door."

To give you an idea how fast things are moving in the TV world these days, Tim was out on a personal appearance tour plugging the coming of the "Rango" series for the 1967-68 season. Suddenly he got a call from ABC telling him to get back to Hollywood quick because "you're going into our second season."

"I think I only go to two cities with my 'he's coming' tour and had three more 'he's coming' speeches when I got this 'hurry up, you're on next' call," recalls Tim, still dazed.

HE THOUGHT it was kind of strange for ABC to send him out on the road this early to plug a new series for the fall of '67, but now Tim realizes the network is beginning to operate on a continuous rotation policy.

When your show isn't actually on the air during one of ABC's first, second, third or fourth seasons they have you touring the country to acquaint your TV constituents with your next series.

"I was saying goodbye to ABC and 'McHale's Navy,' but as I went out the door somebody said hello and offered me 17 weeks with just about whatever new show I would pick," recounts Tim.

Then Aaron Spelling and Danny Thomas told my agents about 'Rango,' which I guess you'd call a comedy Western about a Texas Ranger. It's not as wild as 'McHale's Navy.' I mean we're not wiping whipped cream off our face every time we come through the door.

"WELL, ANYWAY, I didn't think I ought to take the first thing that came along, so I waited and read about 10 other scripts for series. But all of them started out, 'He's a man on the moon with a pet arrdvark,' and then I was to fly in on a wire. I decided to do 'Rango.'

"Listen, there's really nothing new, and I've been around a long time. I remember Margaret O'Brien."

With Tim in his "Rango" role are Norman Alden who plays the head Ranger and Guy Marks as a dumb Indian.

Tim admits that "Rango" is the "Get Smart" genre but, as he said, there's really nothing new. It's the way things are done that counts, he adds, and Tim has plenty of fans who like the way he does them.

"I'm LOOSE about this," says Tim. "My attitude is, 'Well, that's as funny as I get, folks.' I could go back to Cleveland tomorrow and figure what happened out here was all very nice, but now it's over.

"I don't mean I'm telling the audience to go to hell, but what's the use of making a big thing about all this?

"Hey, did you know Mary Anne and I had our fourth child about six weeks ago? He's Jamie Dalton. Dalton's my wife's name, so all the kids are stuck with that. We had a child for every year 'McHale's Navy' was on. Thank goodness it was finally canceled."

"I SUGGESTED we just turn these two over to ABC and let it keep running them over the over. Maybe nobody'd know the different. The laugh track is the same, too, no matter if the shows are funny or not."

I asked Tim if this didn't make him the first TV star to finish up one series ("McHale's Navy") and start another at the half-year mark.

Remarks Psychiatrists Get Tired Of Hearing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Remarks that psychiatrists get tired of hearing:

"Whom do you guys tell your troubles to—bartenders?"

"If I want my head shrunk, I'll take it to a good Chinese hand laundry."

"I admit I'm kind of dumb about these things, but what puzzles me is—is there much difference between astrology and psychiatry?"

"Wellington, you'll have to punish the children. I'm afraid that if I do it I'll leave them with emotional scars."

"I don't care if this is National Mental Health Week, Doc. If you tell me I hate my mother, I'll punch you right in the eye."

"Don't try to pull the wool over my eyes, Doc. I've read a little Freud myself, and I still say he was just a nasty-minded old man."

"Before we begin, do you mind if I just look under the couch? I'm the cautious type."

"My problem, Doc, is that both my wife and my employer understand me completely."

"Would you please tell the doctor that I am Napoleon—and don't care to be kept waiting. I am on my way back from Moscow and must reach Elba by nightfall."

"I don't believe you heard a word I said. Frankly, doctor, for $50 an hour, I thought you could at least hear me out without yawning."

"If I do tell you what's secretly gnawing on me, Doc, what guarantee do I have that you won't blab it all over town?"

"What do you mean that I'll have to learn to stand on my own two feet? If I could do that, why would I be lying down on your couch here in the first place?"

"Boy, if you ever talk in your sleep, Doc, I'll bet your wife really hears an earful!"

"All I want is a couple of quick lessons in psychiatry that will enable me to get my boss to give me a raise."

Nurses Told To Think Of Working On Moon

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Nurses here have been advised to think of working in outer space—and even on the moon.

"Who says nurses won't land on the moon? They will," was the confident prediction of the International Nurses Council's retiring deputy executive director Gwen Buttery.

"Nurses today are part of a team of specialists in a highly specialized world. In some countries they are already being prepared for the time when they will work in space," Miss Buttery added.

She told a nurses' conference that the capsules bringing U.S. astronauts back to earth were encrusted with South African industrial diamonds, the only matter known that could resist the tremendous heat generated during the space journey.

Miss Buttery is the only South African to serve on the Nurses' International Council, which represents more than 500,000 nurses from 63 countries.

Remarks Psychiatrists Get Tired Of Hearing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Remarks that psychiatrists get tired of hearing:

"Whom do you guys tell your troubles to—bartenders?"

"Are you sure you're Dr. Wellington Cortex, the psychiatrist? I thought all psychiatrists wore beards—like beatniks."

"If I want my head shrunk, I'll take it to a good Chinese hand laundry."

"I admit I'm kind of dumb about these things, but what puzzles me is—is there much difference between astrology and psychiatry?"

"Wellington, you'll have to punish the children. I'm afraid that if I do it I'll leave them with emotional scars."

"I don't care if this is National Mental Health Week, Doc. If you tell me I hate my mother, I'll punch you right in the eye."

"Don't try to pull the wool over my eyes, Doc. I've read a little Freud myself, and I still say he was just a nasty-minded old man."

"Before we begin, do you mind if I just look under the couch? I'm the cautious type."

"My problem, Doc, is that both my wife and my employer understand me completely."

"Would you please tell the doctor that I am Napoleon—and don't care to be kept waiting. I am on my way back from Moscow and must reach Elba by nightfall."

"I don't believe you heard a word I said. Frankly, doctor, for $50 an hour, I thought you could at least hear me out without yawning."

"If I do tell you what's secretly gnawing on me, Doc, what guarantee do I have that you won't blab it all over town?"

"What do you mean that I'll have to learn to stand on my own two feet? If I could do that, why would I be lying down on your couch here in the first place?"

"Boy, if you ever talk in your sleep, Doc, I'll bet your wife really hears an earful!"

"All I want is a couple of quick lessons in psychiatry that will enable me to get my boss to give me a raise."

"Is it true, Doc, that all you guys are a little off base yourselves, or you wouldn't be in this business?"

"I just got your bill, Doc. If you expect me to pay it, you'd better put me under hypnosis—real deep hypnosis."

Junior Editors Quiz on FRESCO

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Fresco is a way of painting large pictures on walls. Fresco, if properly done, will last as long as the walls themselves. Other kinds of wall painting lie on the surface, whereas fresco penetrates into the wall itself. This medium, originated in ancient times, became perfected in Italian Renaissance days. We show the famous artist, Giotto, creating a fresco. To do this, the wall was first covered with two coats of plaster. The main lines of Giotto's, full scale drawing or cartoon would then have been transferred to the plaster in rows of dots. In upper left, we show an assistant putting a third coat of fresh plaster on an area which the artist expects to finish in one day. Below, we see Giotto painting a beautiful Madonna and Child on this area while the plaster is still wet. The colors, mixed in water, will sink into the wet plaster and become a part of it; so permanent a part, that the fresh colors and tender feeling of Giotto still delight us today. Each day, the master would paint a fresh section of his picture, until the fresco was finally completed.

★ ★ ★

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How about removing stubborn stains, like crayon, lipstick, and soot, from furniture, woodwork and walls?

A.—These are difficult to remove with suds, unless you add an abrasive cleaner that can damage the finish. Try using a good cleaning wax.

Q. — How can I clean copper and brass?

A. — Using equal parts of salt and flour, mix with enough vinegar to make a paste, and rub this over the metal, let dry, and then remove with hot soapy water. If your metal is in particularly bad shape, apply the paste more generously, and allow to remain for several hours before washing it off.

Q.—Just what are the proper paintbrush cleaning agents for the various kinds of paint used?

A.—For oil paints and varnishes, use turpentine or mineral spirits, and then a good washing in water and soapsuds. For flat paints, use naphtha or kerosene. For shellac, denatured alcohol does the trick. For lacquers, acetone and naphtha. For latex paints, just plain old water.

Car Salesman's Dream In Africa

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — Piet Swart of a popular holiday resort, Hartenbos, on the southern Cape Province coast, is a motor salesman's dream. Over the past 16 years he has bought 130 cars—and was awaiting delivery of his 131st.

Swart said he could not explain his weakness for cars other than it was in his blood. In the past six years he has bought about ten to 12 new cars a year.

Almost as quickly as they come, they go. Once he traded in a new car after two days and 200 miles. On another car he lost $784 after he had done only 1,600 miles.

"If I am not satisfied with a car, I sell it immediately, no matter what I lose," he said. "But that does not happen very often. I know the prices of all cars and their second - hand value off by heart."

His most expensive car was a Mercedes Benz 220S at about $4,900. "I had six of those and two other Mercedes in a little over three years," he said.

Lately his cars have been in either white or pale grey because he finds they do not show the dust. "But before that," he said, "They were all black, green or red."

Swart says he can still remember all his cars and when he drives through the streets he can pick them out by the dozen.

Car Salesman's Dream In Africa

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — Piet Swart of a popular holiday resort, Hartenbos, on the southern Cape Province coast, is a motor salesman's dream. Over the past 16 years he has bought 130 cars—and was awaiting delivery of his 131st.

Swart said he could not explain his weakness for cars other than it was in his blood. In the past six years he has bought about ten to 12 new cars a year.

Almost as quickly as they come, they go. Once he traded in a new car after two days and 200 miles. On another car he lost $784 after he had done only 1,600 miles.

"If I am not satisfied with a car, I sell it immediately, no matter what I lose," he said.

"But that does not happen very often. I know the prices of all cars and their second - hand value off by heart."

His most expensive car was a Mercedes Benz 220S at about $4,900. "I had six of those and two other Mercedes in a little over three years," he said.

Lately his cars have been in either white or pale grey because he finds they do not show the dust. "But before that," he said. "They were all black, green or red."

Swart says he can still remember all his cars and when he drives through the streets he can pick them out by the dozen.

He is not in the motor trade. He owns a general store in Hartenbos.
